POLICE SHOOT TWO BANDITS

SENSATIONS COME FAST IN ROTHSTEIN CASE

ROGERS MAKES HIS VESTRIS VERDICT; BLAMES WEATHER

(Special To The News)

NEW YORK, Dec. 8.—Hoover is going in and out of those South American countries so fast they must be equipped with revolving doors.

That Vestris investigation certainly turned in a thorough report. They said the ship was wrong, the crew was wrong, the captain was wrong, the inspectors were wrong, England was wrong, America was wrong, the ocean was wrong.

The only thing they failed to criticize was the thing that caused it all — that was the weather.

Yours,

WILL.

PA NEWC OBSERVES

There must be a great slaughter of deer going on in the Pennsylvania woods this hunting season judging from the number of animals being brought back to Lawrence county by local hunters. If the hunters of other localities are as successful in bagging game as the Lawrence county hunters, some thousands of deer have already been killed.

Announcement of the county poor director, M. B. Hogue that conditions among the poor are considerably better than a year ago, is most cheering news. Another rather striking fact announced by the poor director is that there are some 60 men inmates at the county home and only about 15 women.

New Castle is shocke at the number of accidents occurring on the streets where children are injured by autos. There is need for more caution on the part of auto drivers and also on the part of the children. Parents should impress upon their children time and again the dangers of running into the streets.

If the proposed plan of the city council goes through whereby the Central fire station abandoned building is remodeled and made a part of the city hall and the treasurer and controller moved out of the corner room in city hall and the room occupied as a store room history will be repeating. Years ago the corner room was occupied as a store the treasurer's office being where the police chief's office is now located.

Business and Professional Women's club of New Castle is going about the matter of holding their state convention in this city in a way that bespeaks success. While the convention does not occur until next May a full list of arrangement committees has already been appointed and is starting to function. Preparations for the convention will not be put off until the eleventh hour.

NEW YORK, Dec. 8.—Sensation followed sensation in the Arnold Rothstein murder case today.

A man and a woman were arrested. They are said to be members of the gigantic drug ring in which the gambling underworld czar was a sinister power. The woman was taken in Chicago and the man in Buffalo while he was fleeing to join her.

Federal agents in chase swooped down on a room in the North Sheridan Hotel at Chicago and seized narcotics worth hundreds of thousands of dollars. This raid followed by only a few hours seizure in the Hotel Commodore here of two trunks containing $2,000,000 worth of drugs.

President-Elect Hoover Carries Good-Will Message To Bolivian Government

NEXT STOP TO BE SANTIAGO

By LAWRENCE SULLIVAN

ABOARD U. S. S. MARYLAND, OFF CHILE. (VIA ARLINGTON, VA., RADIO STATION), Dec. 8.—The Chilean Cruiser Chacapuco joined the Maryland today escorting President-elect Herbert Hoover down the coast to Antofagasta and Santiago.

The president-elect brought the respects and goodwill wishes of the United States to a South American Republic, whose soil he will not touch on his visit of amity—Boliva. Boliva has no sea coast.

A delegation of 80 persons representing Bolivia and 45 others were to board the Maryland at 10:30 o'clock (Chilean time) to exchange greetings with Mr. Hoover on this ship.

Next Stop Santiago.

Capt. Kimberly, of the Maryland, planned to drop anchor two miles off Antofagasta at 10 o'clock, remaining until 3 o'clock this afternoon when the journey will be resumed to Santiago. The ship is due to reach Santiago at 7 o'clock Monday morning.

Commercial interest as well as friendship is attached to the brief stop as Antofagasta is the chief export port for Chile nitrate.

Among those making up the party of visitors to the Maryland were Alberto Palacios, acting minister of foreign affairs for Bolivia; representa-

NEW CASTLE HIGH SCHOOL'S GREAT 1928 FOOTBALL TEAM FETED AND HIGHLY PRAISED

Brilliant Work Of This Year's Eleven Cited By Speakers Last Night

Believe New Castle Entitled To Recognition As Champs This Year

By "BUGS" WALTHER

The 1928 New Castle High school football season was officially closed last night.

The final gesture of a great gridiron year was the staging of the annual banquet and dance at The Castleton Friday night. Speaker after speaker praised and exploited the football boys. Twelve of the young gridders who attended the banquet last night will be missing when it comes time to start another grid campaign.

It was a touching scene, this annual feed. The first part of the program was thoroughly enjoyed. The meal was very good and it was a hilarious crowd of about 100 that gathered around the festive board to partake of food. When the realization dawned that next year several of the bright-eyed and fine football men would not be present, the thoughts became more serious.

Truly speaking, the football feed last night surpassed all previous attempts of this kind. New Castle High school last night had the honor of entertaining one of the greatest gridiron teams that has ever represented the local institution. No championship awards were given the boys this year; they did not capture any titles, yet the season was a big success from many standpoints.

Coaltown Store Is Burglarized

Earl's Store Is Looted By Thieves At Early Hour This Morning

Roy Earl's general store at Coaltown was robbed last night, according to word received by Deputy Sheriff William Reynolds this morning. The thieves tried first to get in from the front, but being unsuccessful forced a side door.

The store was found in wild disorder when Mr. Earl opened up this morning. It has been impossible yet to give the amount of the loss, as goods appear to have been taken from all departments.

A Mrs. Murphy, who lives near, says that she heard a truck stop near the store about 5 o'clock this morning. It is believed that the thieves carted away their plunder.

Owing to the absence of Sheriff Reynolds who has gone to Michigan City after a prisoner, Deputy Sheriff Reynolds could not leave but called upon State Policeman Munsee to investigate the case.

Physicians Hold Consultation In Illness Of King

Entire Illness Of King George Will Be Reviewed By Doctors

NEW TREATMENTS MAY BE TRIED

King's Temperature Reported As Being Still Above Normal Today

By HARRY FLORY
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LONDON, Dec. 8.—Following a morning bulletin in which it was stated that King George's temperature is still above normal, five doctors gathered in consultation this afternoon in Buckingham Palace to review the whole illness.

It was understood that the methods of treatment might be slightly revised as the result of study of the x-ray photographs of the right side of the king's chest, taken late yesterday.

The physicians present at the consultation were Lord Dawson of Penn, Sir Stanley Hewitt, Sir E. Farquhar Buzzard, Sir Humphrey Rolleston and Dr. H. Graham Hodgson, who directed the taking of the x-ray pictures.

It was intimated that another bulletin would not be issued until 8:30 tonight.

Bulletin of Day

The bulletin follows:

"The king had some hours of sleep. His temperature is still raised on account of the lung condition. His general condition is the same."

It was signed by the court physicians, Lord Dawson of Penn and Sir Stanley Hewitt.

Although the x-ray photographs taken late yesterday were said to show a favorable condition, there was some increase in anxiety over the fact that Sir Stanley spent the entire night at the palace.

Burglars Kill Doctor And Wife At Eaton, Ohio

Doctor's Wife Is Awakened By Burglar's Flashlight In Room

(International News Service)

EATON, O., Dec. 8.—Dr. H. Z. Silver, 55, died today from bullet wounds inflicted by burglars in his home here early this morning. Mrs. Lora Silver, 58, the doctor's wife, was instantly killed by the same thugs.

The doctor's wife was awakened by a flash light playing in her face as she and her husband reposed in bed. Her screams aroused Dr. Silver, who leaped to the floor.

Two shots rang out and Dr. Silver fell with wounds below the heart and in the stomach. Mrs. Silver died instantly when the intruder next turned the gun on her.

Young Husband Is Before Court For Sentence

Romance Of Alexander Hartzell, Aged 19, And His Bride Of 14 Is Ended

PAROLE GRANTED FOR THREE YEARS

Other Sentences Passed When Pleas Are Entered At Court This Morning

Romance of Alexander Hartzell aged 19, and his young wife, Dorothy Hartzell, aged 14, came to a sudden end at court this morning when Hartzell entered a plea of guilty to abduction and perjury. Hartzell who has been employed as a railroader had been keeping company with Dorothy Bryan, daughter of Joseph Bryan of Volant. They decided to get married, but knew that the parents of the girl would not consent on account of her age.

Swear Falsely.

Hartzell induced her to come to the prothonotary's office, where a license was secured after both had sworn that they were over 21 years of age. Dorothy claimed that she had been unduly influenced by Hartzell. Securing the license they were married by a local pastor but immediately friends learned of their escapade and the girl was taken home so that they never lived together.

Hartzell claimed this morning that he did not understand the seriousness of the offense of securing a license by perjury although it was shown that he had talked to a friend about it and had been advised against it.

Paroled For Three Years.

As the young man has borne a good reputation Judges Hildebrand and Chambers decided that it would be best to give him a chance. The seriousness of the offense was fully explained after which he was paroled for three years upon the payment of $100 and costs.

Proceedings have already been started to have the marriage annulled on the grounds that it was obtained by fraud.

Other Cases.

Other pleas presented by District Attorney J. Elder Bryan were as follows:

John Harris, operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of liquor, $200 fine and three months to the county jail.

W. H. Shira, operating a motor vehicle while intoxicated, $200 fine and costs and three months to county jail.

Frank Vargo, possessing liquor, paroled for two years upon the payment of $100 and costs.

George Varson, possessing liquor,

SEEK IMPROVEMENT OF ROAD TO PULASKI

Steps Being Taken To Secure Improvement Of New Castle-Pulaski Road

Road Leaves Wilmington Highway Near Northern Edge Of City

For some years the residents on the New Castle-Pulaski Road, and those residents on by-roads leading into it have felt the need for an improved highway. Not only does this road tap a wealthy farming section, and a number of sand banks but it is some three miles shorters to Sharon and Erie.

Under the terms of the Omnibus Bill passed by the Session of 1927, Pennsylvania General Assembly, the road between Pulaski and West Middlesex was taken over as a state road and will be concreted some time in the near future. This leaves only the stretch between Pulaski and New Castle to be taken over in order to provide a direct highway to the north.

To Organize For It

Because of the need for the road and the interest in it manifest by the residents on and adjoining the road, D. L. Fulkman and A. K. Thompson are crystallizing the sentiment and an organization is being formed which will have for its purpose the pushing of the new road.

Steps are being taken to get the matter before the next session of the General Assembly and in the meantime the support of business men of New Castle and the residents of the rural district are being solicited.

The road in question is that one which runs north-northwest from the turn in the Wilmington road just beyond the city limits. It runs past the King's Chapel church and the Greer farm and enters Pulaski.

The road is one that would be of considerable advantage if it could be secured and the men in charge expect to press their claims with vigor.

Council To Start Budget-Making

No Salary Increases For Any Departments Are Contemplated

PLAN FUND FOR CITY HALL CHANGES

As soon as Mayor William Gillespie returns from a hunting trip city officials will commence discussing the appropriations necessary for the operation of the city of New Castle during 1929.

Among the appropriations will probably be a sum approximating $20,000, which will be required for the remodelling of the city building and the East street building which housed the Central fire department which has been sent to the South Jefferson street fire station recently constructed.

More For Recreation

It is also believed that Councilman Walter V. Tyler will ask for a larger appropriation for playground purposes as recent conference of the recreation board show a tendency to increase recreational facilities. Several thousand dollars will be needed for the municipal golf course which is under construction at the municipal farm.

It is reported semi-official that

Put Canvas Cover On New Fire Truck

Pirsch Service Truck Will Resemble Covered Wagon On Next Run

Although beards and mustaches are taboo with the members of the Central Fire department, yet when the new Pirsch service truck, known to the firemen as truck B, makes its next run, it will resemble somewhat a covered wagon.

This morning City Mechanic McMillen has been putting a canvass cover on top of the new truck, so that the firemen's masks, boots and rubber coats will be protected. It is expected that this work will be finished this afternoon.

Some Local Drivers Receive Low Numbers

Among the low and odd license numbers issued by the Department of Highways for the coming year, New Castle and Lawrence county are fairly well represented. One at least is among the first 100 issued, several among the first 200, five among the legislative series and two in the judicial series.

In 1928 the first L and J license series were issued and for a time motorists wondered what the letters indicated. The letter L before a license number indicates that the holder of the license is a member of the Pennsylvania Legislature. The letter J after a number indicates that the holder is a judge.

The following list shows some of the low and odd numbers, issued for 1929 for New Castle and Lawrence county.

72, Public Service Commissioner Charles H. Young.

124, Attorney Robert L. Wallace, formerly deputy attorney general.

149, David J. Jones, Ellwood City, formerly a member of the House.

348, Hiram Miller of New Castle. This is Andy Gump's number and has been held by Mr. Miller for a number of years.

L-159, Representative M. A. Bickett of Ellwood City.

L-225, Representative Bart Richards of New Castle.

150-J, Judge R. Lawrence Hildebrand.

151-J, Judge James A. Chambers.

Youthful Flier Again Delayed

Richard E. James, 17, Still Hopeful Of Completing Flight To New York City

FORCED TO LAND AT KYLERTOWN

(International News Service)

PHILIPSBURG, Pa., Dec. 8.—Indications are that Rickard E. James, youthful transcontinental flier will be unable to resume his flight to New York until Wednesday of next week, due to difficulties in repairing the plane in which he was forced down at Kylertown, near here, Thursday.

Mechanics working on the plane at Kylertown found that in addition to a broken propellor and damaged right wing, the plane's gas feed and several struts must be repaired. They hoped to have the plane in condition by Tuesday night.

The youthful flier, who hopes to be the first flier less than 21 years old to make a cross country solo flight, is chafing under the delay, according to his managers, but insists that he will complete the flight.

Martin Jensen, pilot of James' guide plane, is directing the repair work at Kylertown, while James plans to remain at a local hotel until his next hopoff, Wednesday. He came here from Mercer, Pa., where he also was forced down, damaging a propellor.

Radio Corporation Stock Takes Tumble

In Thirty Minutes Trading Today Stock Declines Thirteen Points

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Dec. 8.—Radio Corporation common stock was the storm centre in a battle between buyers and sellers at the opening of the stock market today.

It was a fight between the "big fellows" with lots of capital. The "little fellows"—the newcomers in the game of speculation—could only stand upon the side lines or be carried along with the current.

After opening at 361 with a loss of seven points, Radio rallied but quickly shot downward to 355 which was 13 points under Friday's closing price.

By 10:35 o'clock Radio had been pounded down to 329, for a net loss of 29 points in slightly more than 30 minutes trading.

Failure of the directors to split up the common stock of Radio Corporation at their meeting yesterday caused disappointment and led to heavy selling of these shares.

Buying and selling orders were dumped upon the market in vast volume giving the list a ragged, irregular appearance, some were up; others were down.

Wright Aero was off one point; Sears-Roebuck, seven points and Stewart-Warner, 4 1-4 points. On the other hand General Electric rose 4 points; Packard Motor, 4 1-2 points and Victor Talking Machine 3 3-4.

Following lunch which was served by the ladies of the Big Beaver grange, reports were given by Miss Eleanor Drury, former home economics worker here, and Harold R. McCulloch, county agent. They gave reports concerning the work of their own departments during the past year.

Project Leaders Report.

Project leaders in various phases of farm work which is being done thruout the county were given by N. E. Sampson, Charles Patton, William Nesbit, S. B. Hayes, Mrs. R. P. Peebles, L. H. Hawthorn, J. F. Young, W. H. Walton, Milo Moose and David F. Kyle.

Immediately following these reports J. R. Haswell of Penn State college spoke on "Power on the Farm" wherein he explained the potential possibilities of electricity in farm work and also what has been done thus far along those lines.

H. G. Neisly, extension farm specialist, addressed the association on "The Extension Organization." In his address, Mr. Neisly explained the purposes and work being done by not only the local extension but also thruout the entire state.

The meeting, states County Agent Harold McCulloch, was one of the best of the local extension which has ever taken place. Much enthusiasm was prevalent among the workers concerning the past and present work in county farms and the extension is planning additional work for the winter months.

Lad Asks To Take Care Of Two Circus Elephants

Gillis Falls, Jr., of 313 East Wallace avenue, is a humanitarian. He does not believe that any animal should be left exposed to the bleak December blasts. And especially, he does not believe that four elephants, which will invade New Castle next week, and whose homes are in the sunny southland, should be made to suffer during the cold winter season.

And so young Gillis dropped up to see Herbert Peairs at The Cathedral Friday afternoon. He had an idea: he would take care of the elephants.

"We can take two of them at our house," he said. "I don't think that they will be in the way at all."

Then Gillis was asked if he knew just how large an elephant was. "Oh yes," he replied. "I know. They are big. But we can take care of them. We have big rooms in our house. And I like elephants."

But the management of The Cathedral was afraid, afraid that perhaps Mrs. Falls would object to having two elephants tracking up her living room. So Gillis had another idea. "Perhaps they can go in our garages," he said. "We have two big garages."

"An elephant would pick a garage up on his shoulders and carry it off," he was told.

"Not our garages," was the lad's reply. "Our garages are built of stone."

Still, the management of The Cathedral believes that Mrs. Falls would object. So, the fate of the elephants is as yet undecided.

gested that they be quartered on the dirt streets of the city so that they could be made passable the rest of the winter.

Lights have been erected on Leasure avenue from Mercer street to Wilmington avenue and another evidence is shown of rapid development of that section in the past few years. There are 15 or 20 houses on this street which is rapidly building up.

When the wind is blowing more than usual the boys at the Central fire station on South Jefferson street find that the furnace room of the station makes about the best place to loaf. However there is one difficulty. It is a long way to the telephone. So now they are contemplating an extension in the furnace room.

Christmas seals are on sale again and Pa Newc hopes that the people of New Castle and Lawrence county will subscribe rather liberally to the cause. The white plague must be stamped out and the work that is being done by the Lawrence County Tuberculosis society is of primary importance. The society is educating children of school age take care of themselves so that they will be practically immune to tuberculosis. It is a work behind which every citizen should get for the future not only of the county but of the nation.

Now Pa Newc knows what it is that gets a window trimmer's goat more than anything else. Friday noon one of the artists of the city was trimming a window. Pressed against the pane, three urchins had their noses. The man was flustered. Many times he changed the display; finally he came out of his seciuded nook and blasted the lads by bell, book and candle. They disappeared and he went at his work in peace.

Contrary to the American Credo, Christmas instead of being a time when Papa's purse is flattened almost beyond recovery it is a time when some people save a lot of money, clerks in savings banks relate. And so there is another great American shibboleth all gone to pot.

It seems to Pa Newc that a considerable number of local game stalkers hit the wild and wooly parts of the Keystone state prospecting for deer. They seem to be doing their stuff for Pa Newc has heard of a great number of does being shot by the various clubs and parties. One sees a number of carcasses going through town riding on automobile fenders and bumpers.

The G. A. R. boys are meeting this afternoon at the Legion Home. Time is racing against them, but the "old boys" who were young like you and me one day, seem to be making a valiant fight. The majority of them are spry as men years younger. Maybe the old time army life which so many bewail didn't hurt you so much after all.

The true optimist is the pedestrian who suffers in a dentist's chair to preserve his teeth for another ten years.

No woman is too bad to appreciate a good husband; no woman is good enough to appreciate a husband who couldn't be bad.

Harry W. Kennedy, forging name on stock certificate and other charges, paroled for three years upon payment of $100 fine and costs. Kennedy claimed that he had found a certificate for steel stock in a locker room at the Shelby tube plant. He kept it over night and then afraid to return it to the owner whose name it bore. Two months afterwards he needed money to go to Detroit to look for work and put the stock certificate up at the Ellwood City bank as collateral for a $200 loan, forging the name of the owner of the certificate. It was claimed in his behalf that he has made restitution of the amount secured. It was also stated that his father is lying at the point of death. He had never been in trouble before.

No indication of increasing the size of any of the departments has been given. It is possible however, that the police department may make a request for appropriations for new traffic lights and new automobiles.

It is not yet known if the head of the department of streets, Clayton Reeves will make a request for a street sweeper, for 1929. LONGER LIFE

WHEN told that the mortality rate is falling, lengthening the average span of life, many persons suppose that better doctors, improved living conditions and the natural course of evolution is responsible, but few associate with it an institution to which probably more than anything else man is indebted for the extra years on earth granted this generation. That institution is plumbing.

Plumbing is not what could be called a "sanitary" word, although it is the first word in sanitation. Perhaps it is denied its due credit because the word is associated with grimy workmen and apoplectic bills. But one need only to compare this country's death rate with that of those countries which have little or no plumbing, to find the reason for the lengthening span of life.

So recent is it that many can recall the time when the small communities of this country were sewerless and running hot water and bathtubs were a rarity. The adoption of plumbing has been amazing in its rapidity and not less rapid have been improvements in the methods and fixtures of plumbing.

Twenty years ago plumbing was left to little better than unskilled laborers. Today plumbing has been raised to a science. Plumbing is the ounce of preventative.

YOUTH HAVING ITS DAY

A ROSTER of champions in various sports this year carried the names of more than a score of boys and girls whose ages range from 16 to 22 years. They were successful over veterans the average of whose years was very much higher. On the stage and in the movies youth of both sexes also predominate. Youth is certainly having its day, but in the more essential activities of life men and women of mature years continue to hold their prominence. A healthy mind in a healthy body, is the greatest blessing of life. Rational sports temporately pursued are a means for keeping the physical body fit, and contribute to longevity. Long life brings experience and experience is a chief ingredient of wisdom.

If it were possible to bring some of the spirit and love of sports into the field of essential work, much friction and unhappiness would be removed from the world today. Human nature is so varied in its predilection that there is never any danger of a bitter struggle for the soft place in life. Just as there are extremes in sport between the pugilist and the polo-player, the billiardist and the footballer, so there are extremes in the field of labor, but the distance between sports and labor is measured by the poles, when the mental attitude is viewed. One reason for the difference is that in sports each contestant strives by fair play to excel, while in the field of labor—well, too often fair rivalry is absent. Another and possibly the greatest difference is that in sports the contestant selects his field and, if he is ambitious, trains for championship therein, while in essential work it is often a haphazard matter of selection and indifference to results.

The world is making progress, however. Science has devised means for measuring the capabilities of youth among the varied fields of endeavor, and vocational schools are making selection and training for life a matter of more concern than was the case in our father's days. A few old-fashioned folk may deplore the frills and frivolities of youth and declare that there is too much coddling of the latter, but the fruits of the new system will be seen in better citizenship a score or so of years hence.

SAVING THE FISH

WITH the depletion, or almost depletion, of the streams and lakes, productive methods of fish culture have not been developed to compare with the progress made along sane and conservative lines in poultry and stock breeding.

It seems that the public has been impressed that the resources of the water, if not inexhaustible, could be taken care of by the federal government and the states, and that the planting of millions of small fish would compensate for any number of large ones taken by anglers and even by seiners and giggers. The public has depended on incubator fish until there are no fish worth while in many American waters. The angler has gone the limit by catching the fish that laid the golden eggs, so hatcheries all over the country are now vainly searching for brood fish, especially brood bass.

So great are the demands for fish for stocking purposes that it is doubtful whether they will ever be fully met. Government hatcheries, which once filled orders of four or five cans, are now asked to furnish stocking fish in carload and trainload quantities.

But for the work of the government hatcheries some of the most valuable species of fish would now be extinct in the United States. They have not only been saved from extinction but have been propagated in sufficient numbers to provide fairly good fishing in many sections.

Chilly for Lambs.

The King's Doctors.

Deep Sea Fish, and Men.

Divine Plus Fours.

By ARTHUR G. BRISBANE
(Copyright, 1928, by N. Y. American, Inc.)

Wall Street's little lambs felt the chill of winter Thursday. Benevolent managers of high finance, to save little people from "foolish gambling," when it is too late, raised "call money" to 12 per cent.

If foolish gambling by the public allows banks and the Federal Reserve to go too far in the direction of criminal usury, there may be quite a smash.

Mr. Mellon, who knows about money, ought to look into that and probably will. Promoted clerks in the Federal Reserve mean well, and are glad to give the banks a chance to make a little dishonest money. But there is such a thing as going too far.

Physicians watching bulletins issued by King George's doctors find it difficult to say exactly what they mean. Royal doctors must be as optimistic as they dare to help Britain's Christmas trade, at the same time protecting their own reputations.

Unfortunately, the most accurate diagnosis probably is that of insurance companies that now refuse to insure the king's life, even at 90 per cent for three weeks.

"Infection in the lungs" is the trouble. The thin wall that separates the king's lungs from doctors watching him is a more effective barrier than the great wall of China.

At the Rockefeller Institute in New York, Dr. Carrel opens a lung cavity of a dog, removes a piece of lung tissue, theoretically diseased, and an hour later the dog is as well as ever. Ordinarily atmospheric pressure would cause collapse of the lung and death at opening of the lung cavity. Carrel's assistants pump air into the wind-pipe at a pressure equal to atmospheric pressure. The dog doesn't suffer, by the way, feels nothing.

But you can't experiment on a king.

Scientists study fishes that live a mile below the ocean surface. Bring them to the top, removing water pressure, and the burst and die.

Human beings live at the bottom of an atmospheric ocean, 500 miles deep. If you took us to the top we probably should burst, and we should die surely. Man cannot live 10 miles up, to say nothing of 500 miles.

We pity the poor, submerged deep sea fish, leading such dull lives. They would pity the submerged poor among human beings.

Science says all of earth's life was once in the ocean. Some animals climbed on the land, developed lungs in place of the fish's bladder, ears in place of gils. Men were included in that migration to land. Other animals, even more ambitious, learned to fly—the birds.

Among human beings a few, birdlike, fly above the level of necessity to the realms of wealth. Once they get there, they, like the birds, are safe. But, like the birds, they don't do much thinking. They don't have to do much thinking.

Germany likes new ideas. German girls go into athletics in scanty clothing. Societies and health farms exist here and there, in Germany and other parts of Europe, where clothing is barred entirely.

But there is a limit and it was reached at Frankfort when actors showed the ruler of the universe dressed in "plus fours" or knickerbockers. The play was endured in Berlin and other cities, but Frankfort's audience threw stench bombs in the theater, disturbing the actors.

Hamlet in "plus fours" and a tuxedo was bad enough. But man, made in the image of his Maker, should not seek to degrade his Maker to his own level, even on the stage.

A device demonstrated by a New Jersey inventor sets type on a typesetting machine by wire. No hand touches the machine.

This will worry typesetters, but probably it need not.

When the typesetting machine came in printers thought they were ruined. They make more now than they ever made setting type by hand.

Mr. Broun, known the world over as the recalcitrant stormy petrel of thought, quarrels with President Coolidge because the president speaks of good will between nations, then asks for 15 cruisers.

That's not inconsistent. The other nations know that we can get the 15 cruisers, and 50 if we want them. And that creates "the good will."

Broun asks, "Is a man who goes out into the world armed only with faith more timid than he who carries weapons?" Of course he is. Look at the rabbit. He carries no weapons, and is more timid than the lion or wolf, that has a mouthful of weapons.

You can't be truly courageous, unless you are wise. And if you are wise, you are prepared.

Let stocks go up, let stocks do down a seat on the stock exchange is valuable. One sold Thursday for $595,000. Buying or selling, the wise broker can make money, which is more than you can say for the frisky lamb.

The governor of a western state was threatened because he stayed the execution of a murderer. We are not in favor of threatening anyone, but it does seem to us that some governors go just a little beyond the right point in extending mercy to crooks. We have had such things happen in Pennsylvania, also.

"I'd rather have a crust at home
Than caviare in distant Rome;
I'd rather slave at meanest work
Than marry obese, moneyed Turk.
Much rather I my socks would wash
Than live in town by name Oshkosh.
I never met a girl so cute
That she could make me live in Butte.
I'd like to see the maiden bonny
Who'd draw me to Punxsutawney,
And years on earth are all too few
To be addressed 'Kalamazoo'."

LIFE'S LITTLE AGONIES

The Chinese as a race is not given to flattery.

A gentleman called at a Chinese laundry for his clothes. On receiving the package he noticed some Chinese marks upon the bundle. Pointing to them, he said to the Chinaman:

"My name, I suppose, in Chinese."

"No name, s'diption," replied the Chinaman. "Say, 'Lil ol' man cross-eyed, no teet'."

Mr. Raskob, chairman of the national Democratic committee ,and his enthusiastic followers are starting right now to try to win the next Presidential election. They are not even going to extend the courtesy of a second term to Mr. Hoover. Well, we will have to see into that.

There never seems to be an underproduction of real estate, despite the fact that there's no more land being made.

A veteran prohibition agent went into a cavern in Texas where a moonshine still was in operation and was overcome by the fumes and would have died had not two other agents come along and pulled him to safety. Now, a veteran moonshiner would just flourish in the same fumes. It's all in being used to it. One agent was killed by the fumes before help came.

Congress has been told that it will take three hundred million dollars a year to dry the United States by the prohibition forces during the years to come. The budget is now forty million dollars a year. If it were not for Canada we would not need much policing to protect this country from rum hounds.

IT'S ALWAYS WAGGING

Every year at Christmas time there are thousands of pieces of mail put into the post office that cannot be delivered because something is wrong with the address and no return name of the sender is on the parcel or letter. When you mail anything, be sure it is all right before you put it into the post office. If you do not know how yourself, ask someone who does know.

Some of the governors of states have been asked to prevent the execution of murderers during Christmas week. That's all right. Why not do the jobs now?

WHEN YOU RIDE A FREE HORSE TO DEATH, YOU MUST WALK.

It is easy to distinguish people who deserve help from people who don't.

People worth helping have self-respect and will accept no more than they need.

People who aren't worth helping will try to get as much out of you as they can. These at once forfeit the sympathy of the charitable and so are left without any help at all.

I wonder if there is anybody in the world who never heard the fable about the fool who killed the goose that laid the golden eggs.

A new eyelash dope promises to make the eyes "gleam softly from dark shadows." A fist will do that, too.

A SNAPPY COMEBACK.

"Where did you learn to drive?" growled the ungallant traffic cop who was bawling out the lady.

AT IT AGAIN.

The Germans are again very busy. Before the Great War they were noted for their thoroughness in making use of everything possible to use and wasting nothing.

Now, under the trade name of "textal," a new product composed mainly of paper, a textile fabric and one or more metals, has been produced at Baden, Germany.

The surface of "textal" has the appearance of metal, but the reverse surface looks like paper. It may be bent or folded without cracking. It may be embossed or printed upon by any ordinary printing process. Made in a variety of fast colors, it is claimed that it does not oxidize or tarnish.

The manufacturers of "textal" suggest that it may be used for quality card board, confectionery boxes, trunk linings, fine packing for cosmetics, placards, picture frame coverings, bookbinding, fancy dancing shoes, stage decorations and wall paper. As a wall covering, the makers believe that they have a very superior product because when "textal" is embossed, it has the appearance of silk.

Silk wall paper commands a very high price and those who love silken papers will be interested.

THE BATTLE CRY OF PEACE

I want no peace which sits me down
Untroubled by a sigh or frown,
And merely lets me stay alive
Without one goal for which to strive.

I want a triumph now and then,
A victory for my fellow-men.
I want the wars of art and trade
By which a better world is made.

God grant the cannon long may rust
And never more the sword shall thrust,
But in this world may never cease
The glorious battle cry of peace.

No flabby peace I want, but one
Which keeps the courage surging on
And stirs the blood and holds us true
To tasks God placed us here to do.

Friends Of World Court Hope President Will End Impasse

Desire Of Mr. Coolidge To Reopen Question Suggests Possibility Of Settlement Before His Administration Ends

The question of American adherence to the World Court is alive again and friends of the court find in President Coolidge's desire to reopen negotiations on the subject hope for an agreement before the end of his administration. Some observers, however, fail to see any basis for reviving what they for a long time have regarded as a closed incident.

Discussion centers about the Senate reservation providing that without the consent of the United States the court should not give an advisory opinion on any matter in which the United States claimed an interest. It has been pointed out that the question of whether the reservation would give this country an unfair advantage over others depends upon whether it is finally held that requests for advisory for advisory opinions require unanimous action by the League of Nations Council.

Considering this uncertainty, the PHILADELPHIA EVENING BULLETIN (Ind. Rep.) suggests that "it would be helpful if the League Council should clear up the present doubt as to whether or not requests for advisory opinions require unanimous action by the Council." The CHICAGO DAILY NEWS (Ind.) feels sure that "should the decision be in favor of unanimity, the one obstacle to American entrance into the World Court would be removed."

"It would seem that common sense and acceptance of the 'eternal fitness of things'," according to the CHATTANOOGA TIMES (Ind. Dem.) "should move us to settle the issue, once and for all, by doing the thing that will settle it and restore the friendly relations with our neighbors abroad, now somewhat abraded." The BANGOR COMMERCIAL (Rep.) holds that "the gap to be bridged is but a slight one," the NEW YORK TIMES (Ind.) assails "petty objections which have hitherto kept us out," and the WORCESTER TELEGRAM (Ind.) sees "nothing in this dispute which could not be straightened out by a little sincere negotiation."

"Statesmanship will show itself bankrupt if it cannot compose this difference," declares the NEWARK EVENING NEWS (Ind.), and the GREENSBORO DAILY RECORD (Ind.) believes that "the question might be settled if it were discussed at a conference of world leaders." The importance of action is emphasized by the ROCHESTER TIMES-UNION (Ind.) which declares that "adhesion of the United States to the court would immensely enhance its prestige and usefulness."

"It does not comport either with the dignity of the country or with common sense that the proposal of entry should be left kicking around for years without definite action," observes the WASHINGTON STAR (Ind.), which thinks that "either the United States should become a member or its proposal of entry should be withdrawn."

"The important fact" to the YOUNGSTOWN VINDICATOR (Dem.) "is that Mr. Coolidge believes that there is still a possibility of our entering the court before he leaves office. If this is accomplished and the Kellogg treaty is adopted, we are facing a most important three months of our country's history." In case of failure at this time, however, the ALBANY EVENING NEWS (Ind. Rep.) believes the President "will at least be able to forward America's adherence so that it will take place in President Hoover's administration."

"President Coolidge may effect this as one of the crowning achievements of his administration," says the PASADENA STAR-NEWS (Rep.), and the NEW YORK EVENING WORLD (Ind.) takes the stand: "The President is said to be greatly impressed by the eagerness of Americans to enter the court; by that token he may safely assume a real leadership if he will." The HARTFORD TIMES (Ind. Dem.) suggests: "The Senate may misbehave now, either by stubbornly refusing to clarify what it has said or by refusing to let the State Department attempt to straighten out the muddle. An alert, interested and vigorous public opinion is the best protection against either contingency."

The Administration is criticized by the LOUISVILLE TIMES (Ind.), which states that "no progress has been made during the last two years toward showing foreign powers that the United States is disposed to accept the mediation of an international court"; and by the TERRE HAUTE STAR (Ind. Rep.) which declares: "In raising the question as to the exact significance of our fifth reservation the World Court nations, having accepted all the reservations 'in principle,' asked for a further 'exchange of views' which would eliminate ground for misapprehension. That courteous and wholly proper request was denied and we remained outside the court because we declined to discuss the meaning of our terms."

Unqualified disapproval of any move comes from the AKRON BEACON JOURNAL (Ind. Rep.), with the assertion: "We took an awful bite of that dreadfully sour European apple and the great rank and file of the ordinary American people want no more of it. Indeed the one thing for which today we can give profound thanks is that we escaped from the League of Nations or any of its subsidiaries."

"If there remains real work to be done in composing differences and removing doubts," in the judgment of the BALTIMORE SUN (Ind. Dem.), "then we shall be agreeably amazed in case it should turn out that Mr. Coolidge is able to do in three months the work that he has been unable or unwilling to do in upward of three years."

The NEW ORLEANS ITEM (Dem.) argues: "Unless Mr. Coolidge has sound but secret reason to believe that the other powers would now waive their objections to receiving the United States into the court's fellowship on its own terms, his move remains only a graceful gesture of friendly feeling toward other peoples by a retiring chief magistrate. For neither have we seen any indication that our people or the Senate have undergone any change of view on the subject."

"Unless the public comes to the support of the idea more than it has since America's first decision to stay out, it will hardly be expedient for the Senate to press the matter further," avers the LANSING STATE JOURNAL (Ind. Rep.), and the WATERLOO TRIBUNE (Ind. Progr.) thinks that "there would appear to be nothing the President can do about making the United States a member of the court, insofar as Congress is concerned."

The Way OF THE World

By GROVE PATTERSON

THE PEOPLE GO ON.

Carl Sandburg writing in the Chicago News tells of the Lincoln-Douglas debates. One of those great events was recently re-enacted at Knox college at Galesburg, Ill. Says Sandburg, biographer of Lincoln: "Three great actors or human forces took part in the Lincoln-Douglas debates. The orators Lincoln and Douglas were two of the actors in the drama. The third was the people. They came in the cold and almost frozen rain of a raw October day to stand and listen three hours to the speakers of the day. That crowd of 20,000 people was an instrument, a factor in history, that the minds and tongues of the orators tried to control and direct. In seven years both of the great orators were dead. But the people go on and on. Perhaps a thousand years from now there will be a millenial celebration of the event of 70 years ago on this spot. The very words of all great orators testify and cry that while the tongues of orators turn to dust the people go on and on."

SHAPING MINDS.

In the above paragraph Carl Sandburg says the people go on although the tongues of orators turn to dust. The people do go on and the manner of their going is determined in part by the spoken and the written word. People seem bent on their pleasures, so intent upon having their own way that we sometimes think they are influenced. But they are deeply influenced more than we know. We are influenced beyond what we ever admit. We listen and sometimes heed little but the impression is left

FROM WEEKS TO HOURS.

There is much talk about the speed with which one can go from coast to coast aross the American continent. Schedules between New York and Chicago come in for much discussion. More interesting however, is the change in schedules which can be brought about in Central American countries. In Mexico, Central America and the Panama country it sometimes takes weeks to go a few hundred miles. Journeys which take two weeks may soon be cut to 20 hours. There are other countries where the airplane means more than in the United States.

THE CHICAGO FAIR.

The Chicago World's fair of 1893 was probably the outstanding event for education, industry and entertainment since the Centennial Exposition in Philadelphia in 1876. There have been other world's fairs but somehow the big Chicago show seems two stand out as foremost in the last 35 years. Now Chicago is planning another exposition on grand lines. But the city has some inside preparation to make before she can invite the world. It is known for its racketeering and organized crime. Perhaps it is no worse in proportion than many other cities. Unfortunately many people think so. What Chicago needs is two campaigns one to rid the city of racketeers and another to tell the world it is done.

Then come on with the exposition.

Pictures South America As Land Of Opportunity

r. Clarence J. Owens, Pan-American Leader, Expresses Viewpoints

ays That South America Is Rich In Resources Untouched By Labor And Capital

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, Dec. 7.—President-ect Hoover is "throwing the search-ght" on South America and will pen the eyes of business men of the nited States to its "potential op-rtunities," Dr. Clarence J. Owens, esident of the Pan-American Com-ercial Congress, declared in an ex-usive interview today. He referred South America as the "continent opportunity."

"South America offers the United ates unlimited opportunities for siness expansion," said Dr. Owens. t is in close proximity to us and s tremendous potential resources ntouched by labor or capital.

"Commerce is the language of peace. Mr. Hoover knows that. We should develop that language and strengthen our good will with our neighbors to the south. If we do not develop trade relations with the countries of South America, other nations will."

Dr. Owens presided at the sixth annual convention of the Pan-American Commercial Congress which opened today at the Hotel Biltmore. Delegates were present from all parts of the United States, Canada and South America.

Loans Are Needed

"What is the principal problem that must be surmounted in our dealings with South America?" he was asked.

"Loans," he replied. "Trade follows the loans. South American countries have no difficulty in floating billion dollar loans, but they do experience trouble in getting the United States to absorb a million dollar issue. Even though the project be just as meritorious. There is no market for the smaller loans and they are forced to pay exorbitant commissions to float them. We need an organized program in our financial centers that will enable South American countries to float loans on a parity with the larger loans."

Dr. Owens pointed out that before the World War England, France and Germany loaned money heavily to South American countries and as a result those nations dictated the place of purchase of raw products and manufacturing goods, and also what fleets should be used in their transportation.

Situation Changing

"The situation is changing and now the United States, which turned to South America for business during the war, has cut in heavily on European countries. Our business is increasing steadily, but we must be prepared to meet stiff competition from abroad. One way to build up our merchant marine is through South American trade.

"At present South America is floating bond issues for highway construction. This is the forerunner to large purchases of automobiles from this country. The co-operation of our business men in the making of these loans will react favorably on our future trade relations."

Friendly Feeling Exists

A friendlier feeling exists between North and South Americans than some time ago, and the trend is even more favorable, Dr. Owen asserted. A big factor in this is communications—steamship travel, air and rail lines and the radio, all of which, he said, "is productive of good feeling and understanding."

Dr. Owen spoke highly of Mr. Hoover's plan for a comprehensive air mail service between North and South America.

Dr. Owens delivered a prepared speech at today's session, in which he outlined the history of the Pan-American Congress and its affiliated organization, the Southern Commercial Congress.

Other speakers were on the program for talks dealing with imports, exports, trade balances, trade routes from the United States to the ports of the Americas, the movement of capital to Latin America and other pertinent subjects. Statesmen, foreign diplomats and consuls general and leaders in business and finance were on the program.

Be On Lookout For Bad Checks

Phoney Check Passer At Work, Declares Police Chief; Cites Case

C. C. Horner, chief of police, today took occasion to again warn the people of the city and especially the merchants to be on their guard in the matter of cashing checks, regardless of whose name might appear on the check unless they are satisfied positively of the identity of the person for whom the check is cashed.

This warning came as the result of the passing of another bad check.

According to the report made Friday by N. J. Curry, Pennzoil Company gasoline service station, corner of Highland and Park avenue a man came to the service station and wanted to get a check cashed. He stated that it had just been given him by Rev. C. J. Williamson pastor of the Highland United Presbyterian church. The check was for $8.

The attendant declined. The possessor of the check then called up Mr. Conley manager of the Pennzoil company who after the conversation directed the attendants to cash the check. After getting the check cashed the man paid for the telephone call to the manager.

The check was returned to the Penzoil company accompanied by the information that the signature on it was not that of Rev. C. J. Williamson which it was supposed to be. The check was made out to F. S. Cunningham on a check of the Lawrence Savings and Trust company and bore the signature purporting to be that of Rev. Williamson.

The man passsing the check is described as being tall and thin, about six feet in height, light hair and about 25 years of age. He was wearing a dark brown suit and a brown felt hat.

Your Broadway And Mine

By WALTER WINCHELL

Exclusive Central Press Dispatch to The New Castle News

NEW YORK, Dec. 8.—A decade or so ago a rich New Yorker used his influence to bar an immigrant (who had clicked in a big way down in Wall Street) from residing on the same exclusive block. Whether it was because of the foreigner's religion or manner, we do not know. At any rate when he learned that the prospective neighbor had had him barred, he determined to live there, and proceeded to fight. The locale is 86th street near Fifth avenue.

Several months later he successfully put over the deal in some way and erected an elegant two-story dwelling right next door to his unknown enemy and engaged a noted sculptor to sculp some art over the front entrance. Now, when you inspect the art work you observe the likeness of the owner facing his neighbor's mansion. The miniature statue reveals a man thumbing his nose.

IN FEWER WORDS

They quote Frisco, the clown, as observing: "The Broadway night clubs are clicking—or do my ears hear locks?"

HAVE YOU HAD YOUR IRONY?

You probably got a rough idea on how this corner goes for anything ironical. It is our greatest passion. Well, we were just reminiscing back to a year or so ago, when the Park Central hotel opened. It wanted to attract attention, and engaged Natacha Nattova, the tiny danseuse, to climb its tall radio towers in nothing but a brassiere and trunks. The day before she climbed the management got cold feet, fearing an accident to the lass for which they might be held to blame.

But Natacha went ahead with the stunt, drawing great crowds on Broadway, few knowing what or who was risking a life and why. She did high kicks on the way up, back bends and other acrobatic stuff practically in the nude, and it was a chilly day. But Natacha got no publicity out of it, nor did the hotel, for not a newspaper was notified.

Now the hotel is pretty well known in New York. It was in one of its rooms that Arnold Rothstein was laid low with what some people jocularly say was a piece of a certain 50th street restaurant's cheese cake.

ADD RACKETS

The new racket in music publishing circles is the theme song. Song writers have dropped everything to write theme songs for pictures, since the phenomenal successes scored by such picture tunes as "Jeannine," "Angela Mia," "Diane," "Sonny Boy," etc. According to B. A. Rolfe, songs used to consist of a verse and a chorus. Now the formula is 32 bars of melody and Greta Garbo. It is even reported that a well-known songsmith is at the moment writing a theme song to a set of X-ray pictures of the liver of a famous movie magnate. And when you see a fellow carrying a camera on Tin Pan Alley these days, its 10 to 1 he's a song writer. The first thing publishers ask of writers nowadays is, "Does your song screen well?"

BY WAY OF REPORT

It appears that you cannot believe everything you read in the papers, after all. The companionate idea of marriage reported existing between Fannie Hurst and her husband, Jacques Danielson, with whom she was supposed to have breakfasted twice a week, is just so much whooee.

The exploitation gag was prompted a few years ago when a newspaper publisher who had confidence in the author's ability decided to make her internationally famous. Before starting in her serials in one of his magazines it was broadcast that the newlyweds lived separately and were ultra-modern. The story landed on every front page in the world, clinching her fame. As a matter of fact, they are insanely jealous of each other, but tremendously devoted, and are better described as "inseparable."

A DREARY PLAY

Mellow drama, mystery, the sex lure, tradegy and philosophy are among the numerous contributions to "The Sacred Flame", which Gilbert Miller and Messmore Kendall have provided at the Henry Miller theater. It is W. Somerset Maugham in the somber mood, and there are no typical Maugham bon mots. Instead, they all mope and sigh over the futility of it all.

It is pretty sad, therefore it is glum, and at times too dreary to arouse popular appeal, but it is well acted by a sterling group and there are flashes of highly arresting material in the last two episodes. The first act, however, is crowded with windy dialogue, and not until the second scene, when the element of mystery entered into it, did "The Sacred Flame" urge you to straighten up in your chair and give it intermittently an attentive ear. It probably will not thrive.

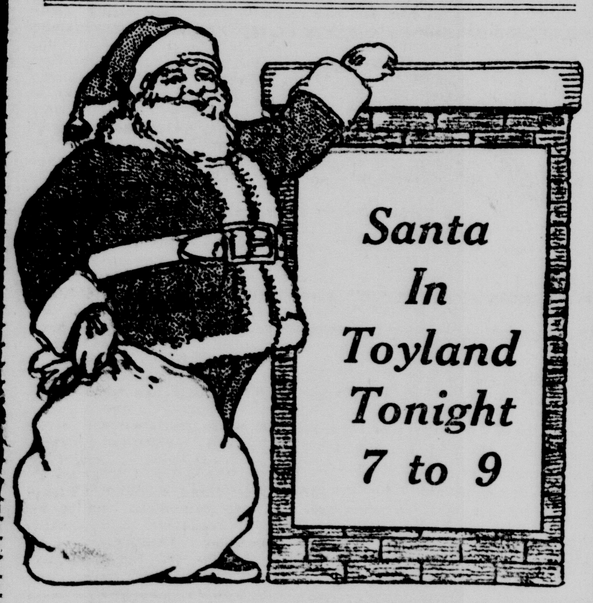

That lawyer of mine has a nerve. Why?

Look at this bill—"For waking up in the night and thinking of your case $5.00."

"Why didn't you try to keep out of jail?"

"I did, ma'am, and got two months extra for resisting an officer."

Warning Issued To Rooming Houses

Police Urge Those Engaged In This Business To Be On Their Guard

Persons engaged in the rooming house business are urged to be on their guard these days against persons who are evidently seeking to get the best of them.

The warning is issued by Chief of Police C. C. Horner as a result of the experience of a local rooming house proprietress on Friday.

There appeared at this woman's place, a man, who said he wanted to rent a room and also a garage. He said that he had just arrived here from Pittsburgh.

His baggage was at the station, he said, the charges being fifty cents and then a dollar an hour for each hour it was left there. He wanted to borrow the money to get his baggage out.

The man attempting this was described to the police as having gray hair and small gray mustache and five feet ten inches in height and was wearing a dark brown overcoat and soft gray felt hat. His shoes were slightly cut in such a way to indicate that he had sore feet.

"I hear you are not going to marry Mr. Smith after all. Why is that?"

"Oh, father thinks his position isn't good enough and mother thinks he is too old for me. My aunt thinks he is too good looking to make a satisfactory husband and my uncle Jim says he has heard rumors about him. My cousins tell me he is a flirt, and I—

"Yes, and you—what do you think about him?"

"Oh, I think I ought to wait until he asks me."

PETER'S ADVENTURES in ANIMAL LAND

BY MRS. FLORENCE SMITH VINCENT

AT LAST THEY LEFT THE WOODS

FLYING AWAY FROM TROUBLE

Peter was happy because the Dove who had brought him to the Great Woods remained his friend in spite of the dreadful things the Two-Legs had done to Dove's relatives. But before Peter could say a word the Dove continued:

"Anyhow, I hate this place now. I can't bear to wait until the great Red Ball rises and I shall have to look upon my wounded brothers.

"I don't ever want to find out how many of my old companions are missing, either. Come, jump upon my back, and I will carry you far way from the river that is green."

With these words the Dove dropped to the ground at the foot of the tree and waited for the boy to join him.

"This is awfully good of you, old fellow," said Peter, gratefully. "If you are sure that you are quit ready to leave your friends I shall be glad to have your company, for to tell you the truth I have no idea where to go from here nor how to get there. Have you?"

Dove chuckled.

"Of course I have," declared he. "Whoever heard of a Dove starting for a place before he knew where he was going. Wouldn't you like to visit my cousin, Mrs. Turtle-Dove? She is the friendliest pigeon you ever met; just loves to have company, and I know you would have a good time.

"Of course I should like to meet her," declared the boy. "Where does she live?"

"Oh, not very far from here in a deserted rabbit burrow. Are you mounted? Fine! Hold on tight! Goodby, brothers. Boy and I are off to a pleasanter place than this. You had better follow our example."

Without giving the birds a chance to reply away Dove arose into the air, and soon they were speeding through the night.

Peter thought the way his aeroplane kept from bumping into trees was wonderful. He himself would have been sure to have run into their trunks if he had been upon the ground.

It was so dark that he could not see but a short distance before him.

But not once did Dove even graze the tip of his wing. At last the bird with the boy on his back left the deep shadows of the woods far behind. Now they were skimming along under a starlit sky. How glad th boy and the bird both were to b out of the danger zone!

Next—"Night Riders."

"Nature," said the philosopher, "al ways makes compensations. If on eye loses sight the other become stronger. If one loses the hearing o one ear the other becomes mor acute."

"I believe you're right," said th Irishman." I've always noticed tha when a man has one leg short th other is longer."

Four Amendments Are Passed In State

Official Count For State Is Issued; Hoover Wins By Almost Million

MANY DID NOT VOTE ON ANY AMENDMENT

From the official count of the votes in the state of Pennsylvania, cast in the recent general election, it appears that Governor John S. Fisher prophesied better than he knew when he said that Herbert Hoover would get 1,000,000 plurality over Alfred E. Smith for President of the United States. The official figures, just compiled by George D. Thorn, chief of the elections bureau, show that Hoover received 2,055,382, Smith 1,067,586, a lead of 987,796, or just 12,204 short of the prophesied million.

All state-wide candidates on the Republican ticket were elected with pluralities averaging 900,000. The figures compiled by Mr. Thorn show that approximately 80 per cent of the registered vote was cast, a remarkable vote, and without question the heaviest vote ever cast in Pennsylvania. In all, the total vote for President was 3,150,596.

Other Candidates Swamped

The vote for candidates for President on other tickets was pathetically light. On the Labor ticket Foster and Zitlow received 2,687; on the Workers Communist they received 2,039. On the Prohibition ticket Varney and Edgerton received 3,875. On the Socialist ticket Thomas and Maurer received 18,647. On the Industrialist ticket Reynolds and Crowley received 380. The total vote was about 1,000,000 more than was cast in 1924 when Calvin Coolidge was elected.

The amendments received rather scanty attention in view of the heavy vote. The figures show that about one out of three voted for the amendments. As a result only four of the fourteen were carried, the four being number six, which allows the courts to redistrict election precincts; number 12, calling for reciprocity among states in the matter of inheritance tax exemptions; number 13, for voting machines; number 14, the metropolitan area plan for Greater Pittsburgh.

The tabulated vote on the 14 proposed amendments follows:

No		For	Against
1	State printing	309,930	721,318
2	State College	611,507	638,068
3	Forestry	415,246	661,641
4	Armories	218,772	764,913
5	Interitance tax exemption	429,516	659,513
6	Election districts	540,513	441,479
7	Pittsburgh abutting property	384,120	499,104
8	Second class city debt	407,024	484,192
9	Highway bond issue	457,050	629,691
10	Welfare bonds	448,707	585,530
11	Philadelphia debt	379,741	486,632
12	Reciprocal inheritance exemption	439,237	493,950
13	Voting machines	745,711	346,323
14	Greater Pittsburgh	472,921	433,677

Rev. Thos. Logan To Assume Charge In City Sunday

New Minister At Pentecostal Tabernacle To Deliver Acceptance Sermon

REV. THOMAS J. LOGAN

Rev. Thomas J. Logan, D. D. of Meadville, Pa., well known pastor, evangelist and Bible teacher, will preach his acceptance sermon in the Pentecostal Tabernacle, South street, this city, Sunday morning at 10:30.

Rev. Logan accepted the call extended to him by the local congregation some weeks ago. He and his family arrived in this city yesterday and are located at 230 Meyer avenue.

Rev. Logan has been most successful in conducting church and tabernacle campaigns in many parts of this country and in Europe. These include services in the Moody Tabernacle in Chicago, the People's Tabernacle in Hamilton, Ontario and Paul Rader's large steel tabernacle in Chicago.

According to reports Dr. Logan was a dancing master before entering the ministry. The story of his conversion is most interesting.

The local congregation is very fortunate in being able to secure such a minister of high standing and ability.

"Old Jim" Departs From Native Haunts

Croton Avenue Philosopher Goes To Home In Winfield, Kansas

Another of New Castle's landmarks has passed. James Morng—or "Old Jim," as he was known to the boys of Croton avenue—has gone from the city, never to return. Now Old Jim is in the Knights of Pythias home at Winfield, Kansas, waiting—waiting for the inevitable.

Old Jim was a philosopher, in fact, he was called the philosopher of Croton avenue. A firm believer in the systems of Schopenhauer and Nietzsche, he kept his mind active although he had a hard time to make his legs go the rounds.

He was not as punctual as another of his heroes, Emanuel Kant, yet, by watching Old Jim's movements, the merchants of Croton avenue could almost set their clocks by him.

Exactly at 9 o'clock, he would come out of his "den" in the Dean building and slowly walk up to East Washington street. For a few minutes he would stand on the corner, talking to the traffic policeman who was on duty. Then the policeman would hold up traffic until Old Jim crept across the street, bent for the City Tool house, where, all morning, he would recount what he had read the evening before. In the afternoon, beginning at 2 o'clock, the process was repeated, and at 5 o'clock, Old Jim again went to his den in the Dean building, to emerge again at 9 o'clock the next morning.

Some people called him a socialist—others called Old Jim an anarchist—but he was neither. No, Old Jim just believed in the Constitution of the United States, and would take his fun by pointing out the foibles of home Americanus.

When he left, the boys had an impromptu farewell party at the City Tool house for Old Jim. And Old Jim broke down, for he was going to Kansas, going to Kansas to die. . . .

Crippled In Jump; Leaves Hospital

Arthur Brown, negro, who jumped from the second story window of a house raided by the police October 12, 1928, and sustained a broken leg, was reported Friday as being ready to leave the New Castle hospital, where he has been since the accident. He has to use crutches and his leg is still in a cast. Owing to the fact that there is on the police docket a charge of visitor in a disorderly house against him, it was intended that he should go to jail when released from the hospital. The hospital authorities stated that he was in no condition to go to jail. He was permitted to go to the home of Frank Cochran, where he will remain until recovered from his broken limb. He is to be available to the police when wanted.

Deliver Milk On Winter Schedule

Milk and cream now are being delivered at a later hour owing to cold weather and the desire that it not stand out on porches and freeze. Formerly trucks left the plants at midnight but now the trucks start delivering at 5 a. m. In some sections the milk reaches the home around 7 and 8 a. m.

Police Answer Burglar Call

Police were notified last night that some person was believed to be making an effort to get into the home of Paul J. Sitler, 1408 Jackson avenue. Detective John Young and Officer Letera were detailed to the scene. They found that a son of the home had thought that he had heard some person trying to enter. No trace of the robber was found.

As a result of the strong gospel messages given out by Dr. Vayhinger during the past three weeks, a goodly number of people have gone forward and professed faith and expressed a desire to lead a new life.

The church orchestra has been furnishing special music each evening and this has added much to the services.

It is understood that, at the expiration of a five-year term, she will be paroled. New Viaduct May Be Open Within Week

Engineer Milholland Says Structure At Wampum Is About Ready

PAPERS ARE SENT TO HARRISBURG

That the new viaduct spanning the Beaver river and the tracks of the Pittsburgh and Lake Erie and Baltimore and Ohio railroads at Wampum may be open for traffic within a week or so from today, was the belief voiced by Engineer C. H. Milholland, who was in charge of its construction, this morning.

According to Engineer Milholland, the papers containing the plans and detailed estimates of the Wampum project have already been mailed to Harrisburg for the approval of the state public service commission.

"The papers, however, must first be gone over closely by the engineering department of the commission and their entire contents checked before the plans and figures are placed before the commission for final action," Mr. Milholland stated. "As soon as the commission passes upon the matter local county commissioners will be notified and the papers returned with their stamp of approval."

Engineer Milholland believes that the plans and specifications will probably be acted upon by the engineering department there in time to have the papers before the members of the commission at their regular Tuesday session, but just how it will actually turn out can not be said definitely.

If the commission should have the papers before it on next Tuesday, Mr. Milholland feels that word concerning their action should reach here soon after, and the papers in a day or so. This leads him to feel almost certain that the viaduct then may be officially approved in time to open on either next Saturday or the following Monday.

The engineer says that everything has been completed at the viaduct with the exception of a few customary minor tinkerings. These will be cleared shortly, he states.

The Boro of Wampum will probably look after the plans for the opening celebration, it is thought, but as to what steps the boro has taken in this regard is not known. It has been impossible to designate a date for this owing to the slow process in securing its final approval.

In its report back to the county commissioners, the commission will undoubtedly authorize the final payment for the work to the contractor in charge and to all other interested parties who have been concerned.

OFFICERS GETTING MEMBERS OF BIG NARCOTIC "RING"

blow the lid off the murder mystery which has baffled New York.

Officials say it will lay bare the true story of why Rothstein was slain and who shot him.

United States Attorney Tuttle said that never before has there been such a wholesale clean-up of drug dealers.

"With the evidence we have and are going to get we should be able to fill any number of prisons with members of this gang," he asserted today.

Woman Arrested

Tuttle announced that the woman arrested in Chicago gave the name of June Boyd. She was the occupant of the room on the fourth floor of the North Sheridan Hotel where the drugs were found neatly wrapped in salmon-colored packages.

The man in Buffalo on the Twentieth Century Limited, on which he was speeding to Chicago, is Joseph Unger, alias Joseph Myers, alias Joseph Klein, Tuttle said. He fled after agents had seized the two trunks checks for which were found in his possession. He is on his way back to New York.

Seize $2,000,000 in Narcotics

New York, Dec. 8.—Narcotics worth two million dollars, seized in two black trunks at the Hotel Commodore last night by federal agents acting on information found in Arnold Rothstein's private papers, were placed under heavy guard in the Federal building today.

Meanwhile United States Attorney Charles H. Tuttle said he had uncovered evidence which would connect the slain gambler with the financing of the largest drug ring in the country, and might reveal the motives and circumstances of the mysterious slaying.

The drugs, which included opium, cocaine, morphine and heroin, constituted the largest seizure of narcotics in the city's history. The trunks containing the drugs had been checked at the Commodore for shipment to Chicago.

Trunks Shipped

The trunks were to have been shipped last night, it was learned. James Kirrigan, in charge of the narcotic agents who made the seizure, said he had acted on information uncovered during a search of the premises of the Rothmere Realty Company and five other concerns at 45 West 57th street. According to federal authorities, a search of the gambler's 60,000 confiscated documents revealed that he was connected with all six concerns.

U. S. Attorney Tuttle stated early today that the drug investigation might lead to the solution of the mystery surrounding the shooting of the gambler. Witnesses were brought to the Federal building today to testify in the drug investigation.

Smuggled From Europe

Washington, Dec. 8—The large supply of narcotic drugs seized by the federal authorities in New York were smuggled into the country from Europe, the narcotic unit of the Treasury said today.

At the office of Col. L. G. Nutt, in charge of narcotic investigation it was stated that the case is in the hands of U. S. Attorney Tuttle of New York City and that the Treasury agents are working directly under his supervision.

It was assumed here that any evidence collected by the narcotic agents which would have a bearing on charges of murder preferred against the alleged Rothstein slayers would be turned over to the New York municipal authorities.

St. Luke's Church Has Anniversary

Banquet And Program Feature Celebration At Church Friday Evening

St. Luke's A. M. E. Zion church on Elm street was filled with an appreciative audience Friday evening for the observance of the 84th anniversary of the organization of the church.

An interesting program featured the evening, consisting of music and talks. Fred L. Rentz of the New Castle News was present and spoke on "The Church From an Editor's Point of View." Mr. Rentz emphasized the fact that it would be much better for the colored people to have two good strong churches than to have so many small ones as is the case in this city. He said that the newspaper needed a church as well as the church needed a newspaper. His talk was interspersed with humor and was highly enjoyed by all present.

Rev. William Hodge, pastor of the Bethel A. M. E. church was also one of the speakers of the evening. He told of the early conditions of the race when they were first brought to this country as slaves. He said that they would usually adopt the religion of their masters. He also mentioned the progress that had been made by the race since they had had their freedom.

Preceding the program a banquet was served in the church dining room which was largely attended.

No Damage Done At Penn Coal Company

Fire Originates In Boiler Room Late Friday Afternoon; Hose Is Used

Fire, caused by a large box sitting on top, of a boiler, did no damage to the buildings of the Penn Coal and Supply company late Friday afternoon, when the Central Fire company, truck B, and company No. 5 were summoned by an alarm from box 53 to 811 Moravia street, the scene of the fire.

All of the buildings of the coal company are of concrete. Truck B laid 250 feet of hose, and the fire was soon extinguished. No damage was done. All companies were back in service at 7:30 Saturday evening. The alarm sounded at 6:30.

Court House Has Waste Basket Fire

The small extinguisher which was used to put out a waste basket fire in the basement of the court house Friday morning is now back in the home of the solons, filled by the New Castle Fire Department.

The fire was slight, states the report of Fire Chief Charles H. Lynn, and no alarm was sounded for it, but the court house attendants emptied a small extinguisher in putting it out.

Forfeit Fails To Satisfy Mayor

It developed yesterday on investigation by the police authorities of the city, that Bill Pappas, one of the three men arrested the previous night in the South Jefferson street district as the result of illegal use of firearms, and released on a forfeit of $10 was probably the most guilty of all.

He was ordered to appear before the mayor this morning, and when he did, a fine of $50 was first imposed by the mayor on the three counts of drunk, carrying concealed weapons and shooting within the city limits.

His honor, following pleas by Pappas, reduced the fine to $25, which was paid.

W. P. I. A. L. SUSPENDS NEW CASTLE HIGH

Cord, principal of Beaver Falls High school, immediately entered a protest on Glenn Shaffer on a non-resident ruling and the decisions committee, without giving New Castle much chance to defend themselves, ruled that Shaffer was ineligible.

The ruling whereby Shaffer was declared as a non-resident of New Castle, automatically forfeited all grid games played this year, in which he participated.

The league today awarded Beaver Falls High School the Syracuse Trophy Cup, emblematic of the scholastic championship of Western Pennsylvania.

New Castle by losing their franchise in the W. P. I. A. L. today will be ineligible to participate in the W. P. I. A. L. basketball league. New Castle had been selected as members of Section III.

It looks as if New Castle was given a "raw deal" today in Pittsburgh. The league did not allow New Castle any preparation for defense and furthermore the procedure barring Shaffer was not according to the league by-laws. No notice was given to New Castle prior to today concerning the protest.

Principal Frank L. Orth who attended the meeting today was ready with two affidavits on the Shaffer case, one from Ralph Shaffer, a brother where Glenn now lives on East Washington street, and from his father A. A. Shaffer, showing that his legal residence is in New Castle. The committee went into secret session and in about five minutes came out with the announcement that New Castle was suspended for one-year.

The announcement threw a bombshell into W. P. I. A. L. circles.

The more you read modern literature the more you wonder why people scorn illiterates.

Missing Truck Mystery Solved

Friday there appeared in the police headquarters a well known coal dealer with the request that the authorities assist in locating a driver of the dealer, who had disappeared with a truck some time previous and could not be located.

The police were busy looking for the missing man and truck but met with no success.

Today the coal dealer notified the police that the driver had decided to go and see his best girl, who resides some place in the vicinity of the Jameson Memorial hospital.

Last night the driver informed the coal dealer of this fact and also the fact that his truck was stuck in the mud in the rear of the new hospital, where it had been left by the driver when he went to see his girl.

After considerable effort, the truck was pulled from the mud today and again put into use.

NEW CASTLE HIGH SCHOOL'S GREAT 1928 FOOTBALL TEAM FETED

ner, with his customary humorous strain, kept the banqueters in very good humor as he told amusing incidents as he introduced each speaker.

As a forerunner to the program of speaking Gardner told of his associations with the New Castle high school athletic council, how he has spent the past 11 years as faculty manager and of the vast benefits and pleasures derived from a host of friendships gained in this span of years. The struggle to raise New Castle High athletics to a high standard was one of the high points in his speech.

Shows Progress

Gardner traced the funds of New Castle athletics from 1917 to the present year. Eleven years ago New Castle High was very proud of a balance of $29 in the athletic treasury. Through years of hard work this total has been gradually swelled and today the total receipts for athletics will run into the thousands of dollars.

A plea for another concrete stand at Franklin field and the establishment of intromural athletics in the schools of this city were the outstanding points in Gardner's talk.

"It takes money to run football and basketball teams," said Gardner. New Castle High is giving the sport-loving populace something for their money. If proper prices for athletic games can be obtained here, then New Castle will give and can give the fans the best there is in the way of sport. Gardner concluded his talk by saying that this year's team had set a fitting climax to a lot of dreams. Gardner complimented the team on their season's record and said that the 1928 team was one of the best that he has ever seen.

Tommy Harper Speaks

"Tommy" Harper, the battering-ram and elusive fullback, was the first speaker on the program. Harper was making his final appearance as far as scholastic football was concerned, and he came through with a first down very nicely as an after-dinner speaker.

Harper said that he was sorry to leave New Castle nigh. That he had made a number of friends here through his football career, and that he valued them very highly. The big fullback said that the things you learn on the football field will be of benefit to you in later life. Harper was acting captain of the team this year and in his position as leader thanked the team members for their co-operation. Coach Bridenbaugh, Assistant Coaches Klee and Thomas, Ralph Gardner and Dr. H. E. Zerner were paid high tributes by Harper.

"I wish the 1929 team lots of success and luck, and I hope that you have a wonderful team here next year," said Harper in closing his talk.

Green Praises Team

Dr. C. C. Green, city superintendent of schools, was the next speaker called upon. Dr. Green in a fine manner revealed that it is becoming more and more pronounced each year that football is a part of the curriculum of the high school and junior high schools.

"Football is good for the mind and body," said Green. It takes teamwork and cooperation for success, and the 1928 team had "It". Self control was shown very clearly this year. Clean living was a big factor. Dr. Green said that New Castle appreciates what the great team this year has done to raise the standard of athletics in this city.

Dr. Green cited the cases of Ostrosky and Cuba as conclusive proof that New Castle is on the level in regards to clean athletics. "To the best of my belief and knowledge, both boys recently protested by Beaver Falls are eligible to play for New Castle High," he said.

Dr. H. E. Zerner, alluded to as team physician and medical adviser to the team was the next speaker. Zerner thanked the high school for the honor of speaking to such a fine group of boys. "I am glad to be of service to the football team." As for compensation of his services Zerner said that he values the friendships he has made with the boys higher than any amount of money that could be paid. Dr. Zerner paid a high tribute to the team this year as he closed his talk.

"Toby" Fernati, silver-tongued baritone and halfback of this year's team was the next person on the program. Fernati sang "Girl of My Dreams" in a most pleasing manner.

Bridenbaugh Extols Team

Coach Philip H. Bridenbaugh, the man who has raised New Castle High athletics to a high standard in the past seven years was the next speaker. "Bridie" started his talk by saying that the New Castle High team of 1928 was one of the greatest that he has ever coached.

"It was a very peculiar team. New Castle High had plenty in reserve this season, that is why we succeeded The team, "said Bridenbaugh, "struck a snag at the start of the season." But after what he called a heart to heart talk with himself doing all the talking, the boys settled down and played a brand of football that would have been hard to beat. In regard to the Washington game which ended in a 0-0 deadlock, "Bridie" said that the boys didn't play up to standard in that particular game.

"We were very lucky that we didn't get licked in that game at Washington. That stand on the one foot line was one of the greatest that I have ever seen a high school team make. and when Washington didn't score from that position I was positive that the red and black team would not lose."

"The New Castle team played only mediocre football until after the South Hills game, after that any team that can defeat Greensburg, Beaver Falls and Youngstown South in a row, must have something, and the boys certainly did have that necessary punch."

"I knew that I had a great team after that first-half of the Greensburg game, the boys played wonderful football that day, and they never let up till South High had been thoroughly trounced."

Plays Hardest Schedule

New Castle High this year played one of the hardest schedules of any team in the state, and it is not an easy job to prime a team for three hard games in a row. Bridenbaugh as a fitting climax to his speech apologized to the boys for the mean things he said about them from time to time this past year.

"I told them at one time that I would be very glad when they were through with New Castle high. I told them they couldn't play football. I told them many hard things, in fact, and then they snapped out of it, and I guess you all know what transpired."

The 1929 season, said Bridenbaugh, looks terrible right now. New Castle high is losing 12 youngsters hard to replace. The outlook for next year is not so bright.

Rev. Williamson Main Speaker.

Rev. C. J. Williamson, pastor of the Highland U. P. church and a strong booster for clean athletics and a staunch supporter, was next introduced as the principal speaker by Gardner.

Rev. Williamson responded to a fine toast with as brilliant and witty a speech as the writer has ever listened to.

The minister drew a big laugh when he said: "Why do they select a clergyman to make a speech at a football banquet?" And before he was through it was proven just why such a move was made.

Rev. Williamson paid a high tribute to the 1928 team as one of the best that he has ever seen in his life. A clean body and clean life are two very necessary essentials and I believe that this year's team adhered strictly in each instance, were high points in his speech.

High compliment was paid to Coach Bridenbaugh as a real leader of boys. The scrubs were extolled by the pastor for the part that they play in the team. Rev. Williamson touched very lightly on his collegiate days and when he was quarterback on a football team, and of the hard knocks and struggles that a reserve player gets, and how he was finally rewarded by being made varsity signal-barker his last year.

Cheerleaders Complimented.

Before closing his speech Rev. Williamson attacked the point-scoring system of the W. P. I. A. L. as keeping from the championship this year one of the greatest football teams that New Castle has ever known.

Toastmaster Gardner before announcing the banquet at an end paid a high compliment to the high school cheerleaders, Sherwood Johns, Otto Pearsall and James Brice, for the part that they played in getting New Castle high's pep and spirit up to a high standard. "The cheering this year at the football games was fine, and it certainly helped the team a lot, to know that the student body wanted them to win."

A compliment was also paid to three women members of the faculty, Miss Maxwell, Miss Rhodes and Miss Galbraith. The three teachers said "Gardner aided us very nicely this year." Miss Maxwell had charge of the pep meetings and singing and Miss Rhodes and Miss Galbraith took charge of the ushers.

During the banquet a part of the fine New Castle high school orchestra under the direction of Miss Isobel Zehner rendered many pleasing numbers.

Members of the team, their lady friends, coaches, school board and several invited guests were present at the banquet. It was a fitting climax to a great football season.

Dancing was in vogue from 10 to 1 o'clock following the banquet with local orchestra furnishing the music.

State And Sampson Tree Is Planned

It is reported that the New Castle Electrical league has been given encouragement relative to the placing of a Christmas tree in the vicinity of State and Sampson streets. It is reported that the different business concerns in the vicinity are figuring on placing a tree in that section of the city.

"Dear, if you would only grow your hair longer I'd marry you."

Crowds Of Eager Shoppers Invade New Castle Stores

Crowds milling around the gift counters—children endeavoring to find out what makes a drum beat—women with bundles in their arms stacked up to their chins—cash registers beating out a symphony of sales—clerks beginning to get that Christmas look on their faces—men folks with mysterious airs as they try to crowd a train of cars into an inside pocket—banks filled with people—sidewalks crowded—and streets filled with cars. That's Christmas shopping in a paragraph and New Castle is right in the middle of it.

The effort to get folks to shop early is bearing more results every year and here in New Castle they are doing it. To quote the old song, "everybody's doin' it."

Business Better.

The influx of Christmas Savings and paydays at various local plants has given an impetus to Christmas shopping that is being felt today. Not only is the usual Saturday rush on but the Christmas rush is on and the idle pedestrian is caught in a vortex of shoppers that carries him to the very door of the stores.

Merchants report an increase in sales that is most satisfying and from all indications Santa Claus is going to have a special crew of delivery clerks on hand for the Christmas Eve package work.

It's the Christmas shopping season and the streets and stores of New Castle reflect the spirit of the season.

IN KEEPING with its policy of progress, Oakland has for months been working on a new Pontiac Six. It is more than a refinement of its famous predecessors. It is essentially a brand new car from beginning to end.

Details will be announced later. But this much can be said now. This new Pontiac will represent an even greater innovation today than the first Pontiac represented in 1926! Without departing from the low-price field, it will bring to this field fine-car elements of style, performance and luxury never before provided in a car so inexpensive to buy.

Man Shoots Deer But 'T'was His Own Mule; Told By Local Hunters

At least one hunter daddy didn't bring home the bunting says John T. Brinton of East New Castle and his son John P. Brinton of East Washington street who have returned home from a week's hunting expedition in Mill Creek, Huntingdon county. The man in question was one of the mountaineers who rode his one and only mule out over the mountain when he went hunting deer.

The man, who by the way, was the mountain land lord of the Brinton's turned the mule loose thinking that he would come back home. The long-eared quadruped loitered to eat some choice foliage and the man hearing crashing through the bushes took a shot and behold it was his own wandering donkey that he had killed.

The two local men returned home yesterday with two deer carcases. Both the elder and younger Mr. Brinton succeeded in caging one doe apiece. Each of the does weighed in the neighborhood of 100 pounds. They are planning to have the heads mounted, states Mr. Brinton.

Mr. Brinton came into The News yesterday and with him brought a fine venison roast.

Give Your Funds To Local Charity

Donations Given To Out Of Town Agencies Do No Good In New Castle

At the Christmas season of the year there are plenty of demands made on the public for various charitable purposes and it is generally at that season of the year that the purse strings of most people are loosened with the greatest ease.

Unfortunately there are those persons and organizations that come into our city and take out considerable amounts of money, which could be used to an advantage here, through their apparent guise of religious workers.

Not a cent of the money that these organizations and persons secure is ever spent for the poor or needy here. It may be spent for that purpose in the city where these people come from but why maintain such organizations or assist in the charity of other cities, when there is a crying need of the money for such purposes here and organizations to see that it is properly distributed.

Among these people and organizations coming into the city and taking out money that is needed here are the Gospel Workers of Youngstown, O., and the Pillar of Fire workers, as well as a number of others, whom Adjutant Parkins of the Salvation Army states, are mistaken for Salvation Army workers.

The Associated Charities, Salvation Army, Red Cross and other local welfare organizations could use this money to an advantage and it is hoped that the charitably inclined people will remember this in the future and at least inquire of any person, whether or not they are from this city and just what charitable work they may be doing here.

Galbreath of Butler county has been called upon to decide in the case of Lawrence Snyder, 19, and Agnes Snyder, 20, of Slippery Rock, who went through a marriage ceremony before a notary last October without having secured a marriage license.

Snyder was arrested on a charge of desertion and non-support, but declared he was not married, claiming he had made this discovery after the ceremony. The court was called upon to pass on the legality of the ceremony.

The elopers were turned over to their respective fathers early today in central police court.

Contest Over Munnell Will Being Heard

Objecting Heirs Claim That Undue Influence Was Used On Maker Of Will

HEARING CONTINUED FOR MORE TESTIMONY

Hearing was held yesterday in jury room No. 1 before Jeannette W. Hutton, register of wills, in a contest over the probate of the last will and testament of W. A. Munnel, deceased, late a resident of Volant, Pa. His will directed that the debts and funeral expenses be paid and satisfied as soon as conveniently could be done after his decease. That his entire estate be sold and converted into cash and that after the payment of the debts, the estate be diveded as follows:

To the grandchildren, Edward S. Harrison, Mrs. Hazel Lafferty, Munnel Harrison and James Harrison, each one per cent thereof. To his son, William B. Munnel 10 per cent thereof. To his daughter, Mary B. Lockhart, 10 per cent thereof. To his daughter, Olive Aggas, 76 per cent thereof. He states in his will that the provision for his daughter, Olive Aggas, was made on account of the care and attention that she had given him in his declining years. He also appointed his daughter, Olive Aggas, to be executrix of his will.

Mary B. Lockhart and William B. Munnel, two of the children and legatees under the will, are contesting the will on the grounds of undue influence and that the testator did not have testamentary capacity at the time the will was written. The will was dated July 21, 1928, and the testator died November 3, 1928, aged 88 years.

The hearing convened at 10 a. m. with the testimony of Maria Broadbent and Mrs. William C. Bruce, the subscribing witnesses, who testified they had been called to the house by Mrs. Aggas to witness her father's will and that they saw him sign the instrument and they signed their names to the same as witnesses. The contestants then proceeded by calling the following witnesses:

Dr. Howard Lafferty, a practicing physician in the city of Sharon, Pa., and a husband of the grandchild of Mr. Munnel.

Philip Cox, cashier of the Bank of Volant, in which Mr. Munnel kept a safe deposit box.

The hearing adjourned for the lunch hour and resumed at 2 o'clock.

The following witnesses were called during the afternoon session:

Willard I. Jones, an electrician, residing in New Castle, Pa., who worked in the Munnel home during the spring and summer of 1928.

William B. Munnel, a son, residing in Hickory township, Lawrence county, Pa., who had charge of his father's securities.

James Reed, assessor for the borough of Volant and a neighbor of Mr. Munnel.

T. C. Blevins, a mail-carrier, who resided next door to Mr. Munnel.

N. O. Allen, a farmer of Washington township, who knew Mr. Munnel for over 50 years.

Mrs. Sarah Cain, a practical nurse and housekeeper, who cared for Mr. Munnel in his home for about four weeks, commencing August 10, 1928.

Chiron H. Lusk, a farmer living near Volant, who knew Mr. Munnel intimately for the last 15 years and who delivered fruit to the Munnel home.

The hearing adjourned about 5:30 until such a date as could be agreed upon by those interested. As double court is being held next week and there is no other room in the court house in which this hearing may be held, it may be necessary to postpone the hearing until after court.

Rev. Scripture's Father Dies At Scranton, Pa.

Rev. George C. Scripture Passes Away While Attending Prayer Conference

Rev. George C. Scripture, aged 65 years, of Schenectady, N. Y., father of Rev. Milton J. Scripture, pastor of the Hoover Heights Tabernacle of the Christian and Missionary Alliance, passed away at Scranton, Pa., this morning at an early hour, according to a message received here by his son.

Rev. Scripture's death was very unexpected. He had left his home a few days to attend the eastern district prayer conference of the Christian and Missionary Alliance which is being conducted in Scranton.

The message stated that he died very suddenly this morning, possibly from heart trouble.

Rev. Scripture was well known in New Castle, having conducted a series of evangelistic services in the Hoover Heights Tabernacle for three weeks last winter. He was an earnest and consecrated minister of the gospel and was a man of fine Christian character. While in this city he made a host of friends, who will regret to learn of his sudden death.

Rev. Scripture had been preaching for about 34 years. At the time of his death he was pastor of the Christian and Missionary Alliance church at Schenectady, N. Y. Other pastorates which he had held include Kenwood, N. Y.; Rochester, N. Y.; Hornell, N. Y., and Huntingdon, Pa.

Surviving him are his wife and four children. Rev. and Mrs. Scripture of this city have left to attend the funeral.

Predicts Success For Sale Of Seals

Returns Are Being Made Rapidly, Says Executive Secretary Of Organization

Although the Tuberculosis Christmas seals have been on sale for less than a week, yet the money returns are coming in to the headquarters of the Lawrence County Tuberculosis society with a great rapidity, states Miss Della A. Glenn, executive secretary of the society, who has charge of the sale of the seals.

"I am sure that this year, the seal sale will be more than a success and that our work will be facilitated very much for by the money received," says Miss Glenn. "Everyone knows the work that the Lawrence County Tuberculosis society does, and I am sure that they believe it is for a good cause."

Today for the first time this year, seals are available at the New Castle Dry Goods company's store, at the Lawrence Savings and Trust company, at the First National Bank of Lawrence county, and at the Y. W. C. A. These booths are being run by the Girl Scouts of New Castle for the benefit of Christmas shoppers at the stores and depositors at the banks who may not have had seals sent to them, or who may wish to buy even more of the Tuberculosis Christmas seals.

The report of the first week of the seal sale will be available Monday, asserts Miss Glenn.

Destroyers Used By Coast Guards Will Be Scrapped

Pre-War Type Destroyers Now In Service Of Anti-Smuggling Are Obsolete

CONGRESS WILL BE REQUESTED TO ACT

By ROBERT S. THORNBURGH
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—Scrapping of most of the coast guard destroyers employed in anti-smuggling warfare probably will be necessary within a short time, it was learned today.

Of pre-war type, obsolete and enormously expensive to keep in operation, Congress will be faced with the problems of replacing these vessels with cutters of other types competent to maintain the vigil against foreign rum ships, according to Undersecretary Ogden L. Mills.

Mills informed congress that the principal item of coast guard expenditure attributable to prohibition enforcement work is the maintenance of the twenty four destroyers which are operating off the north-eastern coast.

The problem of replacement of the destroyers will come up probably in the 1931 budget, the first that will be sent to congress by President-elect Hoover, Mills said.

Many Ships Idle

While it was pointed out that there are many naval destroyers lying idle Mills indicated that because of the cost of their reconditioning and expense in maintenance it might not be advisable to use them in the anti-smuggling work.

Admiral F. C. Billard, commandant, said most of the destroyers were in the war zone during the war and were practically off the navy list when the coast guard took them over. He remarked, however, that the destroyers, making from 27 to 30 knots per hour, are excellent craft for anti-smuggling operations.

Consideration probably will be given at once to plans for replacement of the destroyers. The treasury is expected to consider the advisability of either building new ships for the rum work, or taking over the discarded navy destroyers. A combination program, with gradual replacement with new vessels probably will be the outcome of the project.

More Salvation Army Kettles Out

Commencing with today, representatives of the Salvation Army will be on the main thoroughfares of New Castle with their Christmas kettles, which it is hoped will provide means for making many needy families happy this coming Christmas day. All of the money collected will go to meet expenses incurred by the purchase of Christmas baskets, and also to finance the Army's winter relief.

The lassies with their ketiles were on East Washington street most every day this week. Nevertheless, today is the official opening day.

Today also marks the first that a kettle has been placed in Seventh Ward, on Long avenue and Ellwood City this year.

Police Seek Cause Of Gangster's Meet

All But One Attendant At Cleveland's "Gansters Convention" Released

(International News Service)

CLEVELAND, O., Dec. 8.—With all but one of the prisoners at liberty under bond, police here are apparently beaten in their efforts to learn the reason for the mobilization of more than a score of alleged gangsters from other cities in Cleveland early this week.

The "gansters convention" was discovered Wednesday by a patrolman walking a beat in the vicinity of a first-class downtown hotel.

An investigation followed. Seventy-five police surrounded the hotel while detectives went from room to room arresting the suspects.

Police charged the 21 with being suspicious persons and set their bonds at $10,000 each. Within a few hours bond had been supplied for all of them.

One man held was Salvatore Lombardino, of Newark, N. J. Police were able to retain him when Newark authorities telegraphed that they were forwarding a warrant and a copy of an indictment charging him with murdering a truck driver at Belleville, N. J., April 6, 1927.

Saturday Sing At Tabernacle

Special Program To Be Presented In Evangelistic Campaign Tonight

IMMENSE CROWD ATTENDS SERVICES

With the closing of Everybody's Tabernacle but ten days away, the interest in Divine Healing seems to be multiplying every night. Friday evening saw a long line of men, women and young people pass before Evangelist C. H. Erickson, who annointed them and offered prayer.

Looking back over the services it seems hard to realize that 12 weeks have passed since Evangelist Erickson and his party came to New Castle, but such is the case. December 18 he will close the tabernacle here and the announcement of the closing has had its effect upon the interest in the meetings. The singing seems to be better, the interest in the meetings is more intense and the crowds are still filling the huge wooden structure.

Christians And Divine Healing.

Friday evening the evangelist spoke on Divine Healing again, this time dealing with Christians who had never experienced it. His Scriptural text was taken from 2nd Corinthians, 12-10.

"Some Christians have not experienced Divine Healing because they do not know how to get it" said Evangelist Erickson. "It is similar to having some one depositing $1000 in the bank for you. Unless you know how to get it out, the deposit is useless. Unless you know how to get Divine Healing, the blessing is denied you."

"God has provided healing for all of us, but we must utilize it, we must know how to get it, how to make use of it." In the sermon he used many illustrations of how Divine Healing has been left unused through an ignorance of the method of getting it.

The Alliance Quintette seemed to be in unusual fettle on Friday evening and their singing brought demands for encores from the audience, about 2000 in size. In addition to the Quintette there were two special musical numbers. Evangelist Erickson singing a number and his wife closing the services with a special solo.

Saturday Sing.

This evening the Saturday Sing will be held. This service will see an extra portion of time allotted to congregational singing, with the Quintette and soloists also taking part. Sunday afternoon the subject will be "Keep on Keeping On."

At the close of the Friday evening service the altar rail was crowded with men and women who sought forgiveness for their sins, and many cards were signed. This was followed by the healing service on the platform, and people with all manner of illness and deformities passed across. The number asking for Divine help from their pain was unusual.

Between now and December 18 the evangelist promises some intensive services. The weeks that have gone before have in a measure been preparatory to a religious revival in the closing days of the campaign and Everybody's Tabernacle on South Mill street will probably show some wonderful spiritual results in the next ten days.

Dr. A. R. Bauman, formerly of New Castle and recently of Philadelphia, was the speaker of the evening at a very interesting meeting of the New Castle Dental Society which took place at a recent date.

The meeting was well attended and in charge of Dr. Alex Ruzwich, in the absence of the president.

Unusual Program For Capitol Bill

For Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of next week, the Capitol Theatre offers an unusual booking of feature attractions. First of all the picture itself is an evening's entertainment, the bill being Buddy Rogers, the new film star in "Someone To Love". With Rogers will be Mary Brian, William Austin and James Kirkwood.

The vaudeville acts are all-star attractions. Stromberg's Trained Alaskan Dogs, twenty of them will head the bill, and this act is one that has been a Keith headliner for eleven years. It is the only trained Alaskan dog act before the American public.

The Mardi Gras Revue is an act of six people, but every one of the six is an artist. In itself it is a small edition of a musical comedy.

Walker and West offer "After the Dance" a meritorious skit and Rice and Shirely present "Memories". The entire bill is good from top to bottom and should attract a crowd.

Local Men Back From Stock Show

Cooper And Brenneman Attend Livestock Show In Chicago

Thomas Cooper, of Scott township, and Charles Brenneman of Volant, have returned from Chicago where they attended the Chicago International Live Stock show. Mr. Cooper reports that the show was one of the best that he has attended in many years. Live stock prices were uniformly high.

The grand championship prize was carried off by Clarence Goecke, aged 12 years of State Center, Iowa, with his purebred Hereford steer. The steer weighed over 1100 pounds. It was sold at the close of the show to J. C. Penney, the chain store man, for $8,050, bringing over $7 per pound. The steer is to be taken to New York for exhibition. The youthful owner was taken along to feed and tend to it.

Mr. Cooper says that 108 car loads of steers brought to the exhibition, sold at an average price of a little over 19 cents per pound, setting a record. Many fine horses were on exhibition and sold for good prices. Indications are that the cattle and horse business is getting better, according to Mr. Cooper.

While at the show Mr. Brenneman bought a Short Horn Durham bull, which is expected to arrive in New Castle today or tomorrow.

Jail Sentences To Be Passed On Drunken Drivers

BEAVER, Pa., Dec. 8.—Anyone arrested driving an automobile while intoxicated and brought into the Beaver county courts for sentence will face a jail term, according to a statement of Judge William A. McConnell from the bench today.

"We have about decided to impose sentences of imprisonment in every case of this kind brought before us. There were about 15 cases of driving while drunk presented to the grand jury this week, besides a large number in which pleas have been entered and sentences imposed," commented the court while passing sentence.

SUPERVISORS MEET

The board of supervisors met Friday evening at the home of O. J. Glenn and organized with J. H. Beatty as chairman.

The following road masters were appointed: No. 1, R. R. Foster; No. 2, Raymond Lightner; No. 3, W. A. Uber; No. 4, J. A. Christie; No. 5, Ira McKee.

The tax levy was set at 10 mills. The supervisors are planning to build two pieces of ash or slag road the coming year providing the county will pay their share of the expense, the state having already agreed to do their part. The roads to be built are the Mercer-Butler pike and the Harrisville road.

Some time ago the supervisors announced they would pay the freight on slag for repairing the lateral roads if the persons living on the roads would do the hauling free of charge.

Many in the lower part of the township availed themselves of this opportunity being George Seth, Mr. Myers, Harry Buxton, John Parquet, Charles Denniston, H. S. Uber. De Witt Uber furnished the gravel and did the hauling to build the township road in to his dwelling, and also furnished gravel to repair some bad holes on the Courtney Mills ash road. The supervisors appreciate this cooperation on the part of the tax payers.

A Generous Gesture Is No Guarantee of True Value

WHENEVER long trading allowances are offered, as they will be, to lure you from your allegiance to Cadillac or La Salle you can be certain that this method of selling is necessitated by the lesser value of competitive cars.

Just a moment's reflection makes it perfectly clear that no car can be successfully substituted for either Cadillac or La Salle and, therefore, the lure of long trading allowances, or any other method of competitive salesmanship will fail to sway you if you truly want all that Cadillac-La Salle offer.

It is scarcely necessary to mention Cadillac-La Salle prestige or one's pride in possessing either of these cars. Certainly it is fruitless to suggest that any other car equals them on this score. Just as certainly they stand alone in beauty, in spite of vain but understandable attempts to imitate their style.

Again, there are no cars in all the world so safe to drive or so easy to master under any conditions of road, grade or traffic. For in no other cars can you shift gears so quickly and so easily, because no others have the new Cadillac-La Salle Syncro-Mesh Silent-Shift Transmission, which is almost instantaneous in action as well as clashless in operation.

No other cars have brakes that are so powerful, yet so velvet-like in grip, or that operate with so slight a pedal pressure, because no other cars have the new Cadillac-La Salle Duplex-Mechanical Effortless Four-Wheel Brakes, the most effective braking system ever developed. Nor have any other cars developed a steering mechanism to an equal degree of ease.

Then add to these advantages the Cadillac-La Salle crystal clear, non-shatterable Security-Plate Glass which forever removes the hazard of flying glass fragments and you have features of safety that are of priceless value to you and your family.

It is really very easy to appraise the field of fine cars and confirm your own impression that, after all, there is nothing that can possibly equal Cadillac or the Cadillac-built La Salle in beauty, safety, ease, performance or value.

However generous the trading allowance offered on behalf of some other car, you know that, were you to yield, the money could in no way compensate for all that you would miss.

La Salle is priced from $2295 to $2875; Cadillac $3295 to $7000—all prices f. o. b. Detroit. Cadillac-La Salle dealers welcome business on the General Motors Deferred Payment Plan. Enjoy the car now and pay out of income.

Many Students Receive Honors At Senior High

Second report period at the Senior High school finds 141 students having either received high honors or honors, according to a statement made by Principal F. L. Orth today.

These figures show an increase of 41 students over the last report period, in which 100 students received high honors or honors. The Senior A's and Sophomore B's were deadlocked for honors in the high honors contest. Each had five students on the high honor list. The Senior B's and Junior A's followed with three students each on the high honor list. The Sophomore A's were next with two, while the Junior B's finished next with one. The post-graduates, who led in high honors last report period, failed to produce a high honor student.

Winter Circus Opens Monday At Cathedral

Sixteen Acts Of Best Talent Obtainable Will Be Presented At Show

CLOWN ACROBATS WILL BE FEATURED

Frolic At Cathedral Opens This Evening; Elephants Are Coming

Complete in every detail, from elephants to clowns, and featuring three performers from the Ringling Brothers-Barnum and Bailey Circus—16 acts in all—The Cathedral Winter Circus will open Monday evening at The Cathedral auditorium.

As additional features Herbert Peairs, manager of The Cathedral, announces that he has secured the Otto Grievling Trio, late of Ringling Brothers shows, the aerial acrobats. The Grievling Trio, after they close Saturday evening in New Castle, will go to New York, where they have a solid booking of 28 weeks.

Three Clowns

Bo, Zo and Little Buster, three comedy clowns, who have been featured performers at the Motor Square Garden Circus in Pittsburgh this week, have also been secured for The Cathedral Circus. These three diminutive youths are perhaps the best clowns in the show world today, having been featured performers under canvas during the summer season.

The circus will arrive in New Castle Sunday morning at 11 o'clock on the Pennsylvania tracks.

Elephants Coming

Although quarters for them are not yet available, the four Gentry Brothers' performing elephants will also arrive in New Castle at the same time as the rest of the circus. These perhaps are the most highly educated pachyderms on the stage today, and are sure to give the best entertainment.

William Schulz' Excel Animal Circus, which will feature a bucking donkey—one that cannot be tamed—will prove the major attraction at the circus. The Schulz people will present some of the most novel animal effects ever to be seen in New Castle.

No Local Talent

"There will be absolutely no local talent in the circus," declares Herbert Peairs. "The show will be made up entirely of professionals, and some of the best professionals that are in the circus business today. I believe that the Winter Circus and Frolic will be one of the most successful events ever sponsored by The Cathedral association."

Frolic Opens Tonight

This evening the frolic will open in the basement of The Cathedral. Admission to this event tonight, as well as every night that the circus plays at The Cathedral, will be free.

TO the many thousands of Chrysler enthusiasts who seek the superlative in power and performance, in size and in richness of investiture, it is our pleasure to present the new Chrysler-Imperial. ¶ In the design and construction of the Imperial, cost has not been a factor. The Imperial is built for those who have so insistently requested a car representative of the utmost in Chrysler power, smoothness, fineness and beauty. ¶ Here a discerning public quickly senses a degree of quality which would be prohibitive in cost, if produced with anything less than Chrysler efficiency and economies. ¶ In the Imperial are centered all of the advancements and scientific achievements which Chrysler engineering genius and manufacturing skill have devised. ¶ The Imperial expresses the Chrysler ideal of what a superlatively fine, large motor car should be. Nothing that highest quality can add has been omitted in the production of the Imperial. It is submitted for your most discriminating examination, in full confidence that here is the supreme attainment of Chrysler engineering and craftsmanship.

Foster's Weather Forecast

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—Moderately severe storms expected to center on December 6 were to be followed by the most extreme cold wave of the month; this cold wave was expected to be the most extreme in northeast part of continent, sections 2 and 4 from Great Lakes to Atlantic coast; precipitation of December is expected to take a decided decrease after 17, most precipitation falling during first half of month and near 7 and 13. A severe storm period is expected to cross continent during week centering on 12, causing period 12 to 17 to be unusually stormy and unpleasant; temperatures during week centering on 15 expected to be a stormy and moderately wet period, will average higher than during week centering on 6. Central and northern aPcific slope is now fairly well saturated and will be expected to receive ample December moisture; in western Great Central Valleys just east of Rockies which area includes what is termed the Northwest more moisture would be welcome at the present time in most parts but I do not believe that normal moisture will be received in this area during December; after the stormy period of 12 to 17 area of geratest precipitation will be transferred to the Atlantic coast. This change will be caused by what I term a minor evaporation area; principal evaporation area is still due south and will remain there until latter part of May, 1929, when a gradual change in the principal evaporation areas wil begin to take place that will soon after June 1 bring the principal moisture to North America from southwest of the continent on the Pacific ocean. This will cause greatest precipitation during last half of 1929 cropseason to fall on southern and western slopes and land approaching those slopes.

A recent statement from the A. P. from Tampa, Fla., was to the effect that tornado insurance rates for the state of Florida had been raised 50 per cent. No doubt but that this this raise in rates has been justified by the unusual damage during past few years, but the travesty of this move is that highest rates will be in force during the period of least damage and lowest rates during period of greatest damage. From 1930 to 1936 inclusive will be the perod of lowest average damage from tornadoes in the northern hemisphere; the number of terms on our South Atlantic coast will be as great but the severity of storms and consequent damage will not compare with the seven years previous. The time will come when the approximate tornado damage in a given area for a five year period will be closely estimated; that man will ever control the storms as Brisbane recently stated would come to pass, is beyond any imagination based upon present day knowledge. The exact path and time of tornadoes will never be forecasted except by accident.

Dolores Del Rio Is Bowed By Grief, Held Hope For Her Jaime

Motion Picture Star Bursts Into Tears When Told Former Husband Is Dead

Had Spent Many Slumberless Nights Praying That Jaime Would Pass Crisis

By JOSEPH O'NEILL
International News Service Special Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., Dec. 8.—From an uneasy slumber—Dolores Del Rio was awakened Friday to the bitterest tragedy that had ever entered her picturesque, tumultous life—the realization that her former husband, the handsome, talented Jaime, was dead.

The news came to her at her home, through a cablegram from Berlin, conveyed to her by her faithful secretary, Miss Charlotte Brown.

Only Miss Brown and the little dark star's mother, Senora Antonia Asunsulo, were in the house with her.

Miss Del Rio, after a night of watchfulness that had lasted into the early morning hours, had gone to sleep buoyed up by the cable messages to the effect that there was still hope—that the gallant fight waged by Jaime, encouraged by her cables to him to "keep fighting hard," might still be victorious.

Mother Told First.

First Miss Brown broke the news to Senora Asunsulo, the mother. Together the two women went to the bedroom where the little star rested.

"It is a pity—it is too terrible—to awaken my little girl to tell her this," said the senora, quietly weeping.

And Miss Brown wept, too.

Miss Brown touched her quietly, and Dolores awoke.

Her first words were:

"My Jaime? You have good news—my mother, and my friend?"

There was a moment's silence, and then, as the mother put her arms around the great actress, who to her was still her baby girl, the secretary said:

"It is all over. Senor Del Rio has passed away in Berlin."

For a brief time, Miss Del Rio did not seem to comprehend the message.

"Is it all over?" she repeated. "You mean the danger has now passed? You mean my Jaime is now on his way to recovery to get well? Ah, that is so good!"

Prays For His Soul.

Her expression was nopeful. To Dolores it seemed that her words of cheer to Jaime had had the effect she had meant by them—that he had "fought hard", that he had won the good fight.

"You must understand, my baby," Senora Asunsulo said. "Jaime is with God."

"My Jaime! My Jaime! Oh, it cannot be!" Dolores exclaimed, as a burst of tears drenched her cheeks. "I so wanted him to live—I prayed that he might live! It cannot be that my Jaime has gone!"

She wept, voicing lamentations and expressions of love for the departed young man who had been her husband until only a few months ago, and then with these mingling in both English and Spanish prayers for the repose of his soul.

"Have you two tickets for this afternoon."

"Sorry, but we're all sold out."

"What, you haven't two tickets left?"

"No."

"Well, that's what I call darn poor management."

Wife: "What did you ever do that benefited any fellow-man?"

Husband: "I married you, didn't I?"

SENDS TO WIFE AND HIS BABY

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 8—"Keep away from Al and Mary. If I didn't have to support them I wouldn't be here."

Writing from his cell in Allegheny county jail to his wife in Chicago shortly after he learned that Gov. John S. Fisher has set his execution date, Paul Jaworski, Pennsylvania's arch bandit and killer Friday injected a new mystery into his bloody career of crime.

"Al and Mary," whom he blamed in his letter for his present fate, are unknown to police and have never before been mentioned in his case. The letter follows:

"Mrs. Marga Callas, 818 West 18th street, Chicago, Ill.

Dear sweetheart: Received your loving letter, two of them. I am feeling fine. I hope this will find you in the best of health. I have found out this morning that the governor has set the date for the 31st of December. I suppose you will know about it by the time you get this letter. I haven't more to write. Will close. With love to you.

Yes, sweetheart, I understand why you left. I want you to forgive me for my last letter if you can. I don't know when they take me away, but it will be soon, I suppose.

Love to you and the baby.

Must Send Change Of Address Blanks To Get New License

Motorists who have changed their address since last year and who have not sent in one of the change of residence blanks, will not receive license applications, states Bernard Hanlon, manager of the New Castle Motor Club. That type of mail is not forwarded to a new address and motorists must send in their change of residence slips prior to getting a license.

Mr. Hanlon makes this statement due to the fact that numerous persons have called the motor club asking why their blanks had not come as yet. The motor club manager made a public statement concerning the change of residence blanks some time ago through the columns of The News but evidently there were some who did not see it.

These blanks, states Mr. Hanlon, may be procured at the Motor Club office in The Castleton building. All motorists who have not received their applications should send one of these residence change papers immediately if they wish to get a license.

With regard to extension of motor tags, there is none this year, states Hanlon. New 1929 license plates may be used this year however after December 15.

HIGH LIGHTS OF HISTORY

By J. Carroll Mansfield

The Massacre At Balangiga (Concluded)

HAVING REACHED THE BARRACKS AND SECURED THEIR RIFLES, THE AMERICANS, WHO WERE LEFT AFTER THE FIRST TREACHEROUS ATTACK OF THE FILIPINOS, SOON SCATTERED THEIR ASSAILANTS. ONLY 26 SOLDIERS, ALL BUT TWO OF THEM WOUNDED, REMAINED, AND IT WAS DECIDED TO ABANDON BALANGIGA, AND TRY TO REACH THE NEAREST AMERICAN POST.

EMBARKING IN FIVE FRAIL BAROTAS (NATIVE BOATS), THE SHATTERED LITTLE REMNANT OF THE CARRISON SET OUT FOR BASEY, 40 MILES AWAY. THE NATIVES PURSUED ALL DAY, BUT WERE KEPT AT A DISTANCE BY THE RIFLES OF THE FUGITIVES. THE BLISTERING SUN AND THIRST ADDED TO THE SUFFERINGS OF THE WOUNDED MEN.

ONE OF THE BOATS DRIFTED ASHORE AND ITS UNLUCKY OCCUPANTS WERE MURDERED BY THE NATIVES. ANOTHER WAS SWAMPED WITH ITS LOAD. AT DAWN THE NEXT DAY (SEPT. 29, 1901), AFTER A HARROWING NIGHT, THE SURVIVORS REACHED BASEY. ONLY NINE MEN STILL LIVED OF THE 78 THAT HAD FORMED THE CARRISON OF BALANGIGA.

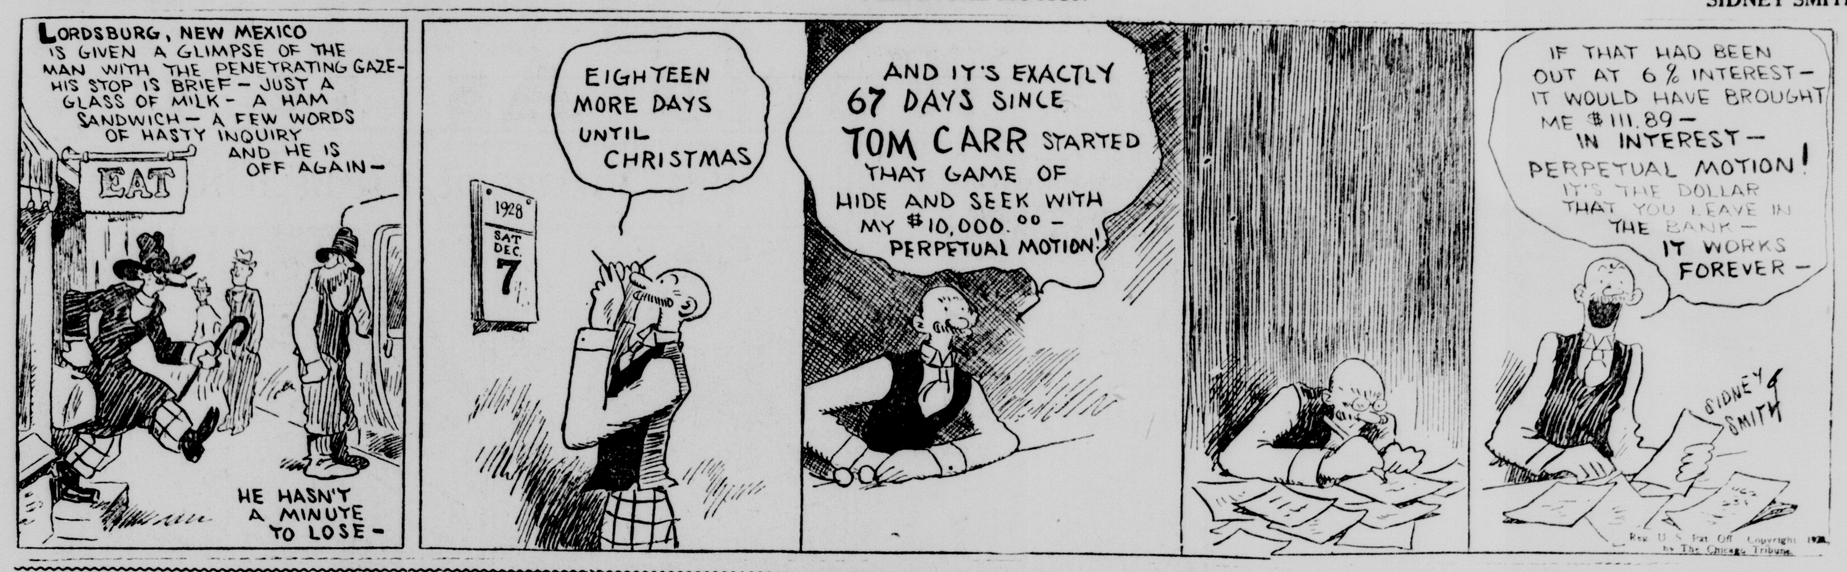

A RELIEF EXPEDITION WAS AT ONCE DISPATCHED TO SAMAR TO RECOVER THE BODIES OF THE SLAIN HEROES, AND A LITTLE LATER A STRONG FORCE OF TROOPS ROUNDED UP LUKBAN AND HIS GUERRILLAS. THUS CLOSED A TRAGIC CHAPTER IN THE HISTORY OF THE AMERICAN ARMY IN THE PHILIPPINES.

ROSS AND PIAI TO SETTLE RIVALRY

Battle Here In Ten-Round Bout

There'll Be Plenty Of Punches When Polis Meets Farrow

THREE OTHER GOOD TILTS ARRANGED

By ED FRITZ

Sportively inclined will journey to Jolly bowl, Monday night to see Young Tony Ross, formerly of Pittsburgh, now of Sharon and Johnny Piai, Greenville, battle in the main bout of what will be the last boxing show until Christmas afternoon. Ross and Piai are welterweights and are docketed for 10 rounds but a hot rivalry may result in a knockout before the final chapter is finished.

They have been in hard training for two weeks but their stiff schedule will come to an end this afternoon. Boxing will be banned from their training quarters and excepting for light calisthenics or other loosening-up exercises the welterweights will loll around until they step into the ring.

Fights In Four Classes

Ross is a seasoned battler, having fought many of the best boys in four divisions in which he has fought. For instance he started as a featherweight, grew into a junior lightweight, romped in the 135 pound class and is now participating in battles with welterweights.

Among the best lightweights he has fought are Cuddy De Marco, Bobby Tracy, Phil McGraw and Jack Bernstein, the latter an ex-king of the class. Ross captured a decision from McGraw who has been one of the best performers in the class. Since migrating to the 147 pound division Ross has tangled with My Sullivan of Chicago.

Has Won Many Bouts

Piai has been battling for about two years but during those two years he has made pugilistic life a vexing problem for some of his foes. The last time we seen the young disciple of Tin-earism battle he knocked out an adversary in a couple of rounds at Youngstown and two weeks ago outpointed Johnny Freeman at Erie.

Ross and Piai are bitter rivals, due to the fact that Ross, formerly of Pittsburgh, moved to Sharon, is making that city his headquarters and Sharon being in close proximity to Greenville, Piai has become somewhat peeved." Two cannot be champion welterweight of Mercer county, so one of us must be beat," is Piai's way of thinking.

On account of the rivalry, which has spread to fandom, one thousand fight fans of Mercer county are expected to follow their favorites to Jolly bowl. Several hundred pasteboards have already been disposed of in Sharon and Greenville as every fan who knows about the fighters expect to see a slambang performance.

Lauder to Meet Rolie

They will arrive in the city Sunday, spend the night at the Leslie, take a short walk Monday morning and weigh in at the bowl, Monday afternoon. The weight stipulated is 152 pounds and if either of them make an exceptionally good showing and appear in the role of a knock'em-dead that chap will be kept busy by Promoter Bill Jolly.

Joe Lauder, the fleet-limbed, rapid-fire phantom of Pittsburgh and Joe Rolie of Erie, a brace of welterweights will oppose each other in the six round semi-final of six rounds. Mickie Dugan, Cleveland and Patsy Young, Pittsburgh, featherweights, will go on in the first six round bout.

Two Good Preliminaries

There will be a fast fight when Tom O'Leary and Johnny Haggerty, 122 pounders clash in a four round battle. They have met before. The former recently fought Roy Minteer but weight proved too much and Tom did not feel inclined to apply to vigorous a lacing in the closing rounds. With Haggerty things will be different. He is Tom's equal.

The fans who like light-heavyweights will await the first battle as Nick Polis, conqueror of Elmo the Mighty and Warren Farrow, colored boy who drew with Elmo, according to The News decision, will meet. Farrow is a "clubber." Everytime he hits he strikes as though he holds a ball bat in his hands. Nick shapes up better and hits straighter.

The entire show shapes up good and as it will be the last until Christmas afternoon a good sized crowd is expected.

Mount Jackson Defeats Alumni

Members of the Mt. Jackson High School varsity basketball handed a slight set back to the alumni five Friday evening when they defeated them by a score of 25-23. The game was played in the high school gymnasium.

The showing made by the North Beaver varsity lent little hope toward a successful season this year. Although they have developed a fairly fast working machine, they are handicapped in size and punch.

The lineup:

Varsity		Alumni
Pitzer	F	Reed
Dennis	F	Griede
Howard	C	McAnlis
Daugherty	G	Barker
Moore	G	Andrews

Subs—Gilchrist for Pitzer; Forest for Daugherty.

A Popular Veteran — By Feg Murray

The Sleepless Carnival has hit New York again, and Madison Square Garden is bulging with screeching, yelling maniacs every night between the hours of 11 p. m. and 3 a. m. Why do otherwise respectable people lose their self-control and voices—and often their overcoats—just because a bunch of boyes and bikes are riding 'round and 'round a wooden saucer, never getting any place, and with the teams so hand-picked that it is no contest at all as far as the chances of more than half the competitors are concerned?

Why? Well, spills and jams and thrills and the chance to meet old friends and sit up all night, and smoke and drink and argue—and Maurice Brocco! Yes, Maurice Brocco is one reason why an otherwise normal man or woman will sit on a hard seat in a smoke-filled arena watching a mob of foreigners ride bicycles around an endless pine track. The fans have always liked Brocco, and always will. He is old and battle-scarred and loves to jam and never seems to get tired, and his name just naturally adapts itself to a spontaneous long-drawn-out yell of encouragement. When things get dull, somebody starts yelling "Broccoooooo" and others take it up. Brocco is inspired to try to steal a lap and soon everybody is pop-eyed with excitement.

Brocco was born at Fismes, France, of Italian parentage, on January 23, 1885, and served in the French army during the war. He broke his nose once by falling over a cliff during a French road race, landing on his face. He has won four six-day races, finished second four times and third four times. He knows his vegetables, does Mr. Broccoli.

Westminster Is Improving

Gradually Climbing Back To Top In College Athletic Circles

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Dec. 8.—Westminster's gradual climb to athletic recognition in the district has been the subject for considerable discussion during the last two weeks. With the announcement made Thursday that "Dike" Beede has been signed for another two-year period as head coach to be assisted by Johnny Lawther, many followers of the school look for continued improvement in the fall sport.

Beede and Lawther have guided the destinies of the United Presbyterians on the gridiron for three seasons. While there has been no undefeated team in that period, a gradual improvement each year has been noted. Since Beede took over the reins, following his graduation from Carnegie Tech, seven games have been won, three have been tied, and 12 have been lost.

A total of 157 points have been scored to 272 by opponents. Of the 272 points run up by opponents, Pitt and Cernegie Tech accounted for 145 in three contests. This means that the United Presbyterians have scored 151 points against 127 for class B opponents in the three years, not counting six points made against Carnegie Tech nor the points made by Pitt and Tech against the U. P. outfit.

Beede's three years of coaching have given the Blue and White players two victories over University of Buffalo, two over Thiel and one each over Bethany, Geneva and Waynesburg. Tie games have been played with Allegheny, Waynesburg and Bethany.

Fries Accepts Post In Indianapolis

Advertising Man Takes New Position; Successors Are Named Here

After some five years' service in New Castle as general advertising and promotion manager for the Fisher Brothers chain of stores, Karl J. Fries has resigned to accept the post of assistant advertising manager of the William H. Block company of Indianapolis, Ind.

The Block store is the largest department store in Indianapolis and in 1927 was the largest user of newspaper advertising space in the world.

In his work here as advertising manager for Fisher Brothers and as director of advertising for their many stores, Mr. Fries inaugurated many innovations in advertising. He was among the first advertising men in the country to adopt the modernistic art movement in department store advertising. Mr. Fries came to New Castle from Johnstown, Pa., where he was connected with Glasser Brothers.

While his leaving here will be regretted by the many friends he has made, they will be pleased to know of his affiliation with such a large concern as William H. Block company.

A. J. Edgar, now basement advertising manager of the Hudsen department store of Detroit, Mich., and J. C. McClintic of the Kemp department store of Frederick, Md., have been named to assume charge of the advertising and promotion of the Fisher Brothers stores.

Johnstown Reports Many Deer Killed

Game Protector From Lawrence County On Duty Near New Florence

Plenty of does are being killed in the deer counties, according to a letter received by a member of The News staff from Game Protector Frank N. Johnston. Mr. Johnston and Thomas O'Brien are stationed at New Florence, Pa., during the deer season and according to the letter 80 were killed between December 1 and December 6.

New Florence is situated in one of the prettiest sections of the mountains and is a natural retreat for deer and other game. One of the big things that helps to pass away idle time, according to Johnston, is The News.

Enclosed in the letter was a solution of the street puzzle printed in The News recently.

SORDS POINTS

Thevenow Dawn Of New Philly Day?

By JACK SORDS,
Sports Cartoonist-Writer for Central Press and New Castle News.

Will the acquisition of Tommy Thevenow by the Phillies prove the turning point in the gloomy trail that lowly National league club has trod since 1916?

Perhaps. It is at least possible. Enthusiastic Philly fans who have stuck with their club through all these lean years when the Athletics were grabbing all the glory and the gate receipts in Quaker Town, vision a new club in spirit and manner of play next season, thanks largely to this new man, Thevenow.

As a member of the St. Louis Cardinals, Tommy was never a remarkably heavy hitter. However he is expected to come through in the pinches a spot where Heinie Sands whom he succeeds was noticeably weak.

The defense, too, should be strengthened through Thevenow.

Tommy Thevenow's professional history is not a long one. He has been in organized baseball but six years, starting with Joplin in the Western association in 1923.

Tommy's worth was immediately apparent and he was purchased by the Cardinals that same season. Tried by the Cards he was sent to Syracuse on option and performed for the New York state club in 1924 and 1925, when he was recalled by the Cards and became a fixture with the St. Louis outfit until his transfer to the Phils.

Yuletide Gold Rush Has Not Yet Started

Banks Experience Small Demand For Gold Money At Present Time

The Christmas gold rush has not yet started, although the banks of New Castle and Lawrence county are more than ready for it, declares Lauri Laurel, teller in one of the city's banks.

This year the desire for gold money seems to be slighter than in any other year, states Mr. Laurel. As yet, few gold pieces have been given out by any of the banks and few persons have requested new bills for Christmas gifts.

L. W. Monroe acted as Master of ceremonies, and introduced the various speakers on the excellent program. The speaker of the evening was Arthur L. Roberts, who is general secretary of the Railroad Y. M. C. A. From his close association with boys, young and old, and fathers of all ages, he could bring a most interesting message to the local fathers and sons. He stated that in late years he has seemed to specialize on such banquets, this being his seventy-first.

Many musical numbers were rendered by the high school orchestra led by Paul Winter. The toast to the sons was delivered by C. W. Campbell, and the response to the fathers was made by Leonard Maxwell.

The tables presented a pretty and seasonal appearance with their rows of tiny trees trimmed with glittering tinsel. The ladies of the church served a delicious menu, and a program of pep singing concluded a very successful meeting.

Many Things Depend On Sale Of Christmas Seals

Just what is done with the money received by the Lawrence County Tuberculosis Society through the sale of tuberculosis Christmas seals is explained by Miss Della A. Glenn, executive secretary of the society, and now in charge of the annual Christmas seal drive.

"When one comes to think of it," declares Miss Glenn, "the amount of work done on the $3,000 that is realized annually through the sale of the seals is nothing short of marvelous.

In the first place it is used to sponsor the well baby clinics, which take place each Thursday morning at the New Castle Dry Goods Company's store. Then it also goes for the distribution of toxin-anti-toxin in the schools and to assist the tuberculosis patients who go to the state sanitoria.

"Supplies for the modern health crusade are also furnished to any school in the county that wants to put on an anti-tuberculosis campaign. Part of the work of the Lawrence County Tuberculosis Society is preventative, and by getting the children to drink more milk, and by getting parents to realize the value of milk, that we are doing something invaluable to the life of the country. This, I might add, is done through the modern health crusade.

"Last year a tuberculosis clinic was held at the Y. W. C. A.'s Elm street center, and at that time the negro people of New Castle were presented with the tuberculosis problem and shown ways to combat the white plague.

"Slightly more than $3,000 was raised in the county schools through the sale of the seals last year, and I feel that this year the subscriptions to the cause will be much more, because the people of the city and county realize even more the necessity of combating the disease."

Chimney Sparks Cause Of Alarm

No Fire Is Found At Home Of Walter Majesky This Morning

Sparks from the burning soot in the chimney of the home of Walter Majesky of 1505 East Washington street called No. 4 fire department and truck B from the Central Fire department to his home at 8:30 this morning.

When the foremen arrived they could find no signs of a blaze. Upon inquiry however it developed that a man passing on the street had seen the sparks coming from the chimney of the house and telling the occupants, had turned in the alarm. Both No. 4 department and truck B were back in service at 9 o'clock.

WEEKLY REVIEW OF NEW YORK MARKET

By W. S. COUSINS
International News Service Financial Editor

NEW YORK, Dec. 8.—A break in the industrial stocks near the week-end sent the high-priced stocks tumbling from 10 to 30 points wiping out millions of dollars in the paper profits of the big and little traders all over the country, and stirring up a state of nervous tension that has not been duplicated in Wall street since the "Hoover Bull" started in November.

After ignoring all of the warnings of the bankers and business men for two or three months, chasing the speculative bubbles far up into the clouds and holding on for dear life on the expectation of fortune-making on a thin capital, thousands of small traders were practically wiped out by the avalanche of selling which swept over the board on Thursday.

Loan Rate Was Cause

A 12 per cent call loan rate was the immediate cause for the selling debacle, but any other excuse, cause or reason would have been as good under circumstances. The truth of the matter is that the market had been over-bought by a speculatively crazed public that has known as much about the intrinsic values of the stocks by buying as they do of the temperature of Mars.

There was no doubt that the tightening up of money was the most important development of the week of the stock market and particularly the movement of the stock prices. Instead of shrinking, as had been expected, brokers loans expandd $100,000,000 for the week, showing that the load of carrying thousands of shares of speculative stocks had been transferred to the small, or margin trader, whose borrowings are proportionately larger than the professionals and pools, who supply a good share of their own "ammunition."

That fundamental business and industrial conditions are sounded is evident from the extremely favorable earnings reports and dividend resumptions and increases announced during the week. On a single day a total of 15 such increases, resumptions or granting of stock dividends were passed on officially by the directors of prominent concerns.

The banking houses and industrial corporations have already begun to make up their summaries of the year's business. Most of them will find that 1928 tops the best previous year in history, in the matter of industrial output, home and foreign sales, profits, and dividends.

Dividends Large

Compared with the early post-war years, corporation profits have risen all the way from 300 to 1500 per cent, which forms an important back-ground for the tremendous upward trend in stock prices which have been in progress since the first part of 1924.

A break or two in the progress of a bull market is a natural development, and its severity depends on the degree of recklessness with which stocks have been purchased by big and small traders all over the country. When the storm breaks, these traders are unable to protect themselves, and their stocks are thrown in the market for what they will bring.

Since they much compete with thousands of other shares many of them also in the "distress selling" conditions, they are not likely to receive anything very flattering in the way of prices, and often huge losses occur.

Friday's strong rally carried the leaders upward five to 20 points from the level of Thursday's close, but the deluge of selling which engulfed the market at the close soon wiped out all effects of the rally and substituted a new string of losses, extending from 2 to 27 points. The stock market situation was considerably muddled at the close of the week.

Perry Gaston Post Is Appreciative

Express Gratification At Efforts Of Business Men To Get Convention

Routine matters were disposed of and several new ventures proposed when the Perry S. Gaston Post No. 343, American Legion held its regular meeting Friday evening in the Legion Home.

The co-operation of New Castle business men in connection with the recent attempt to get the state convention here was discussed and much favorable comment was heard. The Legion passed a resolution of appreciation for the hearty support given the movement and also directed the adjutant, Pat J. Dempsey to write a letter of thanks to the New Castle Chamber of Commerce for its support and co-operation.

December 21 was designated as Party Night for the post and a feed and smoker will be held. Arrangements will be made for a program of entertainment and Nick Speed has been instructed to get the K. P.'s to work getting a feed prepared.

Deer Are Plentiful Say Local Hunters

Dr. Seal's Party Returns Early In Week With Limit Of Doe Deer

Deer in Clearfield county this year are very plentiful, is the report of Dr. G. E. Seal of New Castle, Claude O'Rourke of New Castle and E. J. McCarthy and Fred Wilton of New Wilmington, who returned recently from a hunting trip into Clearfield county. Each man shot a fine deer.

They report seeing herds with as many as 15 does in them. Hunting conditions were ideal, and Saturday 43 does were brought to camp. Monday 33 deer were brought to camp, and as all of the party had one each, the party returned late Monday night.

Contractor Starts Constructing Sewer

It was stated today by Municipal Engineer Frank Miller that Woods & Golder, contractors, already have commenced constructing the Moravia-Lutton streets storm sewer. The work started at Long avenue and the line will be laid north in Moravia to Lutton street.

Council recently floated a bond issue of $50,000 and the money will be used to pay for the improvement.

The sewer was made necessary by the collection of water in South Mill and other streets following each storm.

Council May Make Determined Stand

Ordinance Says Streets Cannot Be Opened Longitudinally After November 15

Council may soon take a determined stand in regard to street excavations so that "chuck holes" will not be left in public thoroughfares thruout winter months.

Friday during council session two requests for street excavations were granted. An ordinance, it was said, prohibits longitudinal openings after October 15, on account of weather conditions.

The ordinance has been on the city books for years but it has never been enforced to the letter of the law. However, Councilman Reeves, in charge of streets, believes the law should be enforced.

The village smart Aleck can't make his horse prance on Main street but he can attain 40 m. p. h. before changing to high gear.

N. Y. STOCKS

By W. S. COUSINS
International News Service Financial Editor

NEW YORK, Dec. 8.—With a terrific thud that shook the stock market to its foundations, Radio Corporation stock crashed 72 points to 296 in a day of hectic selling in Wall street—the third day of dizzy tobogganning.

More than 100 points has been clipped off the market value of Radio Corporation stock in three days of the most disastrous selling seen in a highly excited market since the middle of June.

Flooding the market with selling orders for the over-ballooned Radio shares found little or no demand for the stock, and by successive stages it was jolted down the line for a sheer drop of 72 points, closing at the bottom.

Puncturing the Radio bubble was brought about by a deluge of selling orders, based principally on the failure of the directors of the corporation to order a split-up in the shares, or to put the stock on a dividend basis at their meeting yesterday.

It was evident, at the tap of the opening gong, that something was amiss in the market position in Radio. The first block of stock sold at 361, a drop of 7 points from the previous close, and pressing of the stock for sale showed clearly that there was little demand for Radio at anything approximating these prices.

The next wave of selling swept the stock down to 325, a sheer drop of 43 points for the first half-hour of trading, and of 105 points from the high of the move. Once again, the the "big traders" and pools, which have been ballooning Radio stock, stood aside and made no effort to arrest the downward move.

In the ensuing struggle to unload, brokers milled around the Radio post, screaming and gesticulating in a wild effort to execute their orders. Sheer drops of 3 to 8 points between sales showed how little real demand there was for Radio outside of the speculative bunch that has been booming it to the skies, partly on the trapping of the shorts, and partly on the gullibility of outside trades. Radio, which never paid a penny of dividends, ballooned to $420 a share in less than a year.

Greek-American Women Organize

Ladies Of St. George Aid Society Is Formed In New Castle

For the purpose of promoting social contact among their numbers, and also for the purpose of being of assistance in cases where aid is needed, the Greek-American women of the city have banded themselves into an organization known as the Ladies of St. George Aid society.

At the first meeting which was held the following women were named as officers of the new organization: President, Mrs. Nick Askounes; vice president, Mrs. Gust Zarkadis; secretary, Mrs. William Lestas; assistant secretary, Mrs. Theodore Pappas; treasurer, Mrs. George Karides.

For some time the need for such an organization has been felt and after some discussion and consideration the women decided to form such a group.

A business meeting will be held once a month and a social meeting every two weeks. A program will be drawn for the club and as it gets more firmly established, relief work will be taken up.

Kochanski Pleases Music Association

Shenango Pottery Employes Are Guests Of James M. Smith At Concert

A violinist who featured technique, and who was enthusiastically received by the people of New Castle was presented to the members of the New Castle Civic Music association Thursday evening at the Cathedral auditorium, when Paul Kochanski alternately astounded the audience with his marvelous bowing and lulled them with the colours of his violin.

Mr. Kochanski is skilled in his art. This is shown by his rendition of "The Dragonfly". And he is adept with muted strings, as was shown by an encore "Pale Moon," which showed his control of singing notes.

James M. Smith, Sr., of the Shenango Pottery, as a courtesy to his employees, bought out the whole second balcony of the Cathedral so that his people could hear the concert. Over 300 from the pottery attended.

This afternoon Mr. Kochanski gave a matinee at the Cathedral, for the school children of the Junior and Senior High schools.

Cops Sure Know Season Is Here

An unusual condition prevailed this morning at the police court. Not an arrest had been made since 1 a. m., Friday morning. There was not a person to appear before the Acting Mayor W. T. Burns for any offense against the laws since that time, more than twenty-four hours.

Added to this was the rather unusual fact that there was not a juvenile person ordered in before the mayor for Saturday morning, when it has been customary in recent months to hold what is known as the juvenile session of police court.

Apparently the people of the city are on their good behavior.

Just Among Us Girls

ETTA KETT — PLAY SOMETHING SOFT AND MOURNFUL — BY PAUL ROBINSON

Beware Your Christmas Greetings Are Not Mailed To Dead Letter Office

Due to unintentional carelessness and hurry on the part of patrons of the United States mail service, postal officials estimate that more than three or four million holiday season "dead letters" reach the office of the dead letter service in Washington, D. C. each January.

Edwin W. Crawford, local postmaster, states that New Castle and Lawrence county are largely represented with dead letters due to the fact that return addresses are minus in numerous cases. Especially so around this time of the year are people more or less careless with the addresses that they place on their letters and parcels he states.

"The three or four million dead letters that are received after the Christmas holidays" the postmaster says, "are in addition to the normal receipts of ordinary undeliverable letters.

"This enormous increase of undeliverable matter is due primarily to the incorrect addresses but would still be preventable in spite of incorrect addressing if the patrons of the service could be persuaded to put their return addresses on envelopes, contrary to the wide-spread custom of mailing greeting cards in none- addressed envelopes.

"The loss sustained each year by the mailing public is enormous, amounting to not less than a $325,000 cash outlay, not to mention the disappointment of hundreds of thousands of persons who fail to receive the anticipated greetings, leading no doubt in many cases to misunderstandings and enstrangements since in the absence of the return address the letter cannot be returned and the mailer is unaware that his or her message was not delivered.

"Thousands of letters contain gifts of money and but a few of them contain sufficient information to enable their return to the mailers."

Postmaster Crawford hopes that persons will write the return address on the cover of their letters so that in case the address of destination is wrong the matter can be returned to its sender.

According to Mr. Crawford the persons who "return address" tehir mail are not in the majority but should be. The majority of the business houses place their returns on their mail but in countless social correspondence cases the return is usually lacking.

This is the time of the year when the return address is most essential if the safety of mail is to be carefully guaranteed. If the correct return address is given there is no doubt but that the matter in question would be returned, should the other address be incorrect.

TOO TIRED TO TRAVEL

It is not likely—but isn't it just possible that your boy might have to turn "newsy" in the absence of adequate financial provision for your family, if anything should happen to you? Adequate life insurance provides food, clothing and shelter and keeps the children at school.

EQUITABLE LIFE ASSURANCE SOCIETY OF THE UNITED STATES

M. J. Donnelly,

30 N. Mercer Street, New Castle, Penna.

SPECIAL EXECUTIVE REPRESENTATIVE

NEW CASTLE "OUR CASTLE"

by The Woman's Club — Organized in 1889.

"GOD COULDN'T BE EVERYWHERE, SO HE MADE MOTHERS."

In this proverb, even the pagan recognizes in the mother, a God appointed guardian of the race.

Our own city knows no greater need than just such guardianship or mothering—for our homes, for our schools, for our recreations and for our public housekeeping. To aid such work is the aim of this column.

Better Moving Pictures—I.

Moving pictures as a source of entertainment have proved such a combination of good and evil in their influence over our boys and girls as to make their desirability at times exceedingly doubtful. All over the county persons interested in the welfare of the young people have tried various methods of bettering the type of pictures shown with varying degrees of success.

The plan which has gained best results is that which is being put under way for New Castle by the Education department of the Woman's club. It is a scheme of co-operation. The education department of which Mrs. W. H. Hanger is chairman, suggests and is responsible for the fitness of the picture. Speer Marousis exhibits this picture in the Penn theater and Supt. C. C. Green agrees to have such pictures announced in the various school assemblies and on the school bulletin boards.

These special pictures will be shown on Saturday forenoons at 10 o'clock beginning December 29. From the list of pictures submitted, Mr. Marousis has succeeded in securing for the opening entertainment "Little Shepherd of Kingdom Come" and "Discovery of the Flag" with which both he and the committee are more than pleased.

A committee of ladies from the Woman's club will act as hostesses at each entertainment. Mrs Hanger and Mrs. DeLace Cole will represent the club at the opening picture and Girl Scouts will act as ushers.

With such a carefully considered plan there seems nothing to be desired to assure its success—except the co-operation of the parents who desire good wholesome entertainment for their children. Who can doubt that this will be given?

Essay Contest—II.

As a bit of constructive work in citizenship the Education Department has offered to the Senior high school a part in the essay contest under the diretion of the General Federation of Women's Clubs. The essay subject is WHY SHOULD I VOTE? There are three national prizes for this contest. A first prize of $250, a second prize of $150 and a third prize of $100. The essays are to be delivered to the Woman's club by December 15. The judges have already been appointed—Attorney John P. Lockhart and Robert McKinney White with Mrs. Ralph L. Weide, former English teacher of the Senior high school. Our high school is not lacking in either talent or grit and will doubtless take a creditable part in this contest.

Home Economics—III.

The reason for the special interest of the Education Department in the work of home economics is not hard to find.

Most of the work done in school affects the life of the child indirectly. But the girl taking home economics course can go from the school to her home and immediately put in practice what she has just learned in school to the profit and pleaseure of the home.

Aside from this it will prove an asset in many lines of making a livelihood.

Because of the newness of such a course as vocational work the education committee is planning to cooperate with the junior high schools in making their patrons acquainted with its scope and advantages. Details of this plan will be announced later.

Know Your Schools.

In response to the renewed interest in junior high school work resulting from the opening of the George Washington Junior high school an outline of the development and aims of this system will be given next week in this column by Dr. C. C. Green.

The Know Your Schools movement which has been sweeping Pennsylvania for several years is doubtless the result of the rapid changes in school methods. Dr. Green's article is sure to be appreciated and will serve as a good prelude to a visit to this remarkable school which must be seen if its value to the community is to be fully understood.

Roaming Round With Richards

Some News, Some Views, But Mostly Just Observations Of Interesting Things Around New Castle

Bedding down an elephant for a week or so shouldn't be such a task, but it seems to have developed into one here in the city. The four elephants that are coming in to the Cathedral next week seem to be billed for the part of the Two Orphans, done double unless some big hearted Bennie steps in and offers to turn over his sleeping quarters for the ivory mines.

Personally I've never featured elephants as bed companions. There have been cases of people I've known who slept with pink elephants that wore green striped sunbonnets but the elephants usually disappeared with the last evidences of the jag.

Despite the elephants however, the circus should be a good one. It's the first time the Cathedral has played a Hippodrome attraction and it should be something of a novelty.

Abe Levine has left the city and the bridge game at the Legion Home is suffering accordingly. With Mr. Levine present, in person (not a motion picture) kibitzing developed into an art. Without him, it becomes a nuisance. However Abe has gone, and is now a resident of the "Bawston" where he will engage in selling bigger and better bonds.

Some shoppers are so hard to please. There is the one that spent two hours buying an article in a local shop and then before paying for it asked what guarantee was on it. It happend to be a nationally advertised article and the guarantee was for 75 years. "How do I know this store will be here 75 years from now," she asked.

"You don't, lady," was the answer. "We don't know where we will be in 75 years but the manufacturers stand back of the guarantee." And because she could not be sure that the merchant would be there seventy five years from now, the lady refused to take the article.

Your home town paper is an institution after all. One that you can't appreciate fully until you get away from the city and mingle with strangers. Went down to visit Jimmy Fletcher Friday afternoon. Jimmy as you may know has been away since last June, out in the Government hospital in Hot Springs, Ark.

"You never know what The News means until you are far away for a while," said Jimmy. "Letters are fine of course, but unless you get The News, you get lost, and believe me there wasn't a thing I missed in any issue, not even the personals and birth notices."

If you think the Government isn't caring for disabled men in hospitals, a talk with Fletcher might change your mind. Out in the Hot Springs hospital are specialists of every kind, the very best in equipment, and attendants to care for the disabled men. It wasn't always the case as you may remember, but it's a might fine thing to know that Uncle Sam is now doing what he should for the men who were broken on the Wheel of War.

DRY RAIDER FOUND GUILTY OF KILLING

LEWISBURG, W. Va., Dec. 8.—R. L. Lilly of Kinton, constable and prohibition agent, was convicted of second degree murder by a jury in Greenbrier county circuit court here Friday.

Milk Stolen From Customer's Porch

A. R. English, 323 Neshannock avenue, has complained to the police of the fact that his milk is being stolen with considerable regularity during the past few weeks. The milk he stated, was delivered by a local dairy company, early in the morning and that it was stolen by the time he got up and was ready to use it. He asked the assistance of the police in putting a stop to the continued theft of the milk.
